State's Commitment to Healthcare

Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath's leadership in Uttar Pradesh has played a pivotal role in transforming the state's healthcare landscape. Uttar Pradesh has witnessed substantial advancements in its healthcare services. The state has earned recognition and won prestigious Arogya Manthan 2023 awards in two categories for Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (PMJAY). The first award acknowledges the implementation of Ayushman inquiry centers and the launch of the Green Channel payment system, while the second award is attributed to excelling in conducting Abha scans and generating tokens.

UP Government has implemented far-reaching measures to transform the state into a hub for medicine production. The establishment of critical infrastructures like the Medical Device Park, Bulk Drug Park, and MedTech Park signifies a pivotal shift. The government's dedication to providing treatment without any financial burden on individuals has led to commendable accomplishments, thereby strengthening the healthcare capabilities of the state.

In the preceding year, the Ministry of Medical Health and Family Welfare, Government of India conferred the National Quality Assurance Certificate upon 81 medical units spanning 46 districts. This recognition was bestowed in acknowledgment of their commitment to delivering high-quality health services to the district hospitals within the state.

The accolades encompass 43 district-level facilities, 16 community health centers, and 22 primary health centers. Furthermore, several other medical units across the state have also been honored with the NQA certificate for their commendable contributions to healthcare.

SBA training for a reduction in maternal-infant mortality rate

- The government is actively promoting Skilled Birth Attendant (SBA) training to address maternal-infant mortality in the state.
- The objective is to ensure 100 percent safe delivery facilities for pregnant women in the state.
- The primary goal is to reduce the maternal mortality rate from the current 167 per lakh deliveries (as per National Family Health Survey-5) to 70 by the year 2030.
  - Similarly, the target for reducing the neonatal mortality rate (per thousand live births) from the current 28 to 12 by 2030 has been set.
  - The training encompasses information on the active management of the third stage of labor to prevent infections effectively.
  - Approximately five thousand ANMs, LHVs, staff nurses, and AYUSH women doctors in the state have undergone SBA training as part of this initiative.

Child Healthcare Programme

- A total of 31.5 lakh children have received complete immunization through the vaccination program.
- The Home-Based Newborn Care Programme, led by ASHA workers, facilitated home care for 19.37 lakh newborn babies.
- Approximately 77,000 severely ill infants received medical care through Sick Newborn Care Units.
- A total of 1.75 crore children underwent health examinations at 2.54 lakh Anganwadi centers and schools.
- A health check-up was conducted for 12.13 lakh newborn babies to identify congenital defects.
- A total of 5.49 lakh children received assessments and medical interventions for issues related to birth defects, deficiencies, diseases, and developmental delays, ultimately preventing disabilities.

More than 12 crore individuals received medical treatment through Chief Minister Health Mela

Significant steps taken to make the state a hub for medicine production

- Construction of a Medical Device Park on approximately 350 acres of land in Yamuna Authority.
- Establishment of a Bulk Drug Park covering about 2,000 acres in Lalitpur.
  - Launch of Jewar Medtech Park to boost the medical technology sector.
  - The state government increased MBBS seats in government colleges by over 1838 and in private sector colleges by more than 2150.
  - Expansion of nursing seats to over 7,000 and paramedical seats to over 5,000.
  - Ongoing construction of 22 new medical colleges across the state.

Upgradation at KGMU, SGPGI & RMLIMS

- A vital component in cancer detection, the PET scan machine has been set up at KGMU.
- SGPGI witnessed an increase in emergency beds, with a total of 15 additional beds added.
- Thalassemia patients now have a dedicated ward to cater to their specific needs at SGPGI.
- Significant progress was made at the RMLIMS in the last year, with the successful integration of the hospital into the overall structure.
- A new emergency unit has been established at RMLIMS, incorporating pathology and radiology services.

Further Achievements

- Provision of health ATMs in all community health centers and primary health centers
- AIIMS is operational in both Gorakhpur and Raebareli.
- Encephalitis has been eradicated in Purvanchal, with a remarkable 98% reduction in death rates from this disease.
- Meningitis was completely eradicated from Purvanchal in 2023.
- Reactivation of 33 ANM Training Centers.
- Benefiting 5.56 crore children, the National Deworming Day Programme in the first phase of 2023 achieved notable success.
- Out of the sanctioned 1,89,789 Anganwadi centers in the state, 1,89,014 are currently operational.
- 150 new Anganwadi centers constructed, apart from approval for construction of 199 Anganwadi centers
- Across 43 districts, 201 supplementary nutritional production units are in operation, benefiting 1.77 crore individuals through the distribution of fortified wheat, porridge, gram, pulses, and fortified edible oil via Anganwadi centers.
- 79 nutritional rehabilitation centers operational in 73 districts of the state.
- Baby Shower (Godhbharai') and 'Annaprashan' ceremonies are organised at Anganwadi centers.

Row over pro-Pak slogan rocks Houses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE controversy over Congress Rajya Sabha member Syed Naseer Hussain's followers allegedly raising a pro-Pakistan slogan rocked the proceedings in the State Legislative Assembly and Council on Wednesday.

In the Council, marshals had to stop members from marching aggressively towards each other, while in the Assembly, Opposition members tore copies of the Bills passed amid the pandemonium even as they protested in the well of the House.

In both Houses, opposition BJP-JDS and ruling Congress legislators indulged in heated exchanges as they cited local, national and international issues to criticise each other.

The BJP members took up the issue soon after the proceedings started on Wednesday morning. They said the state government has no moral right to continue in power and demanded an NIA probe into the alleged sloganeering on the corridors of Vidhana Soudha. The ruling party members hit back, while the government assured them of taking action based on a report from the Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL), which will ascertain if a pro-Pakistan slogan was raised. "For the first time in the history of Karnataka, the 'Pakistan Zindabad' slogan was raised inside Vidhana Soudha," said Leader of Opposition R Ashoka. P6

RIL, Disney to merge India media biz

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

BILLIONAIRE Mukesh Ambani's Reliance Industries and US-based entertainment giant Walt Disney have signed a definitive agreement to form a joint venture that will combine the businesses of Viacom18 and Star India and create a media behemoth valued at ₹70,352 crore.

The transaction is expected to be completed in the last quarter of 2024 or early next year.

The JV will be controlled by the Reliance group, which will have a 63% stake. RIL will also pump in ₹11,500 crore into the JV to give it the financial muscle to fight rivals such as Japan's Sony and Netflix.

The development comes a month after Sony terminated its merger with India's Zee Entertainment Enterprises.

Nita Ambani will be the chairperson of the JV, with ex-Disney executive Uday Shankar as the vice-chairperson.

The JV will create the biggest firm in the country's $28-billion media & entertainment sector with 120 TV channels, two streaming platforms, and an estimated 750 million viewers across India.

HP budget passed amid high drama

15 BJP MLAs suspended; Virbhadra's son quits state cabinet, later softens stand

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

WAR clouds hovering over Himachal Pradesh dissipated a bit amid high drama on Wednesday as the Sukhu government passed the state budget after Speaker Kuldeep Pathania suspended 15 protesting BJP members. The assembly was later adjourned sine die. The government was in turmoil after six Congress members cross-voted for the BJP in the Rajya Sabha elections the previous day.

There was further anxiety as PWD minister Vikramaditya Singh, son of former chief minister Virbhadra Singh, put in his papers in the morning saying he was humiliated by the state leadership. By the evening, he softened and said he will not press his resignation.

The six rebels — Rajinder Rana, Sudhir Sharma, Ravi Thakur, Inder Dutt lakhanpal, Chetanya Sharma, and Divender Kumar — appeared before the Speaker as part of the disqualification proceedings. They left for Panchkula from Shimla before central Congress observers — Bhupesh Baghel, Bhupinder Singh Hooda, and D K Shivakumar — reached the state capital. The rebels and three Independents, who supported the BJP in the RS polls, attended the House but abstained from voting on the budget on Wednesday. P12

SPEAKER RESERVES HIS ORDER

Speaker Kuldeep Pathania reserved his orders after hearing the six rebel MLAs. Their advocate argued that they were given the show-cause notice and the copy of the petition but not the annexures. He added that MLAs must be given seven days to file their replies. He claimed that party whip does not apply for RS polls

JOINT OPERATION

Record drug seizure off Gujarat coast

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

IN a joint operation, the Indian Navy and the Narcotics Control Bureau (NCB) seized a record 3,300 kg of narcotics from a fishing boat off Gujarat coast, making it the largest drug haul in recent years. Five foreign nationals onboard the boat have been arrested.

The value of the contraband could be ₹1,300-2,000 crore on the international drugs market, the NCB said on Wednesday. The drugs seized include 3,089 kg of charas, 158 kg of methamphetamine and 25 kg of morphine. The unregistered fishing boat was intercepted on Tuesday morning on the Arabian Sea, around 60 nautical miles from the Indian coast. The packets bore the stamp of 'Ras Awad Goods Co, produce of Pakistan', the NCB added.

The Navy deployed its P8I long-range maritime reconnaissance aircraft, marine commandos and helicopters.

The drugs originated from Chabahar in Iran. The boat has been brought to Porbandar. Home minister Amit Shah described the operation as a "historic success".

NO VASECTOMY BY HUBBY

Woman denied PL encashment for 30 yrs, HC steps in

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 71-year-old woman, who retired from the Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Ltd in 2013, only recently got the encashment for 90 days privileged leave that was denied to her 30 years ago. While giving her terminal benefits, a hyper technicality was raised, pointing that her husband did not undergo vasectomy though she underwent tubectomy, ignoring that both procedures serve the purpose of not bearing further children.

The petitioner, A Alice, had approached the Karnataka High Court in 2014.

"The Corporation's decision to withhold terminal benefits of the petitioner after 30 years, especially in light of the sanctioned leave, is unwarranted and unjustifiable. The technicality regarding her husband's vasectomy should not override the substance of the petitioner's compliance as her action aligns with the spirit and intent of the regulation and should not be penalised based on a hyper-technical reading of the requirement," said Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum.

The court granted liberty to the petitioner to make a fresh representation to the authorities and seek 90 days encashment of privileged leave forfeited. Then, the authorities should pay encashment with 8 per cent interest per annum from May 1, 2013, Alice's date of retirement, till the date of payment, the court ordered. The court said the delay of nearly 30 years in addressing the issue of sanctioned leave in 1983 and the subsequent forfeiture of leave in 2014 has caused significant prejudice to the petitioner.

After having served the Karnataka Electricity Board for several years, the petitioner availed maternity leave while in service. Upon reaching the age of superannuation, she was entitled to terminal benefits, including the encashment of privileged leave. However, the authorities quoting Regulation 130 withheld 90 days' worth of leave encashment, citing a technicality regarding the requirement of her husband undergoing a vasectomy for the petitioner to be eligible for maternity leave benefits.

She contended that Regulation 130 categorically stated that tubectomy or vasectomy is the same as the net result was to avoid further bearing of children. She also contended that she has undergone a tubectomy and has also produced a certificate.

Water tankers must register in week: BBMP

Two engineers to manage water supply in each ward; Government to fix rates per tanker in a few days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH increasing complaints of water tanker suppliers charging exorbitant rates from the public, Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) held a joint meeting and decided to set a one-week deadline for water tankers to register with the civic agency.

Addressing the media on Wednesday, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said only 54 private tankers have registered and according to the data given by the Transport Department, the city is home to 3,500 such tankers.

"We will convene a meeting with those involved in the water tanker business in two days and fix rates. Since many of them have not registered, they have to self-register from March 1 to 7, failing which we will seize tankers and supply water," Girinath warned. He also added that two engineers--one from BBMP and another from BWSSB-- will be deployed exclusively to deal with water supply issues in each ward. Their numbers will be given and public can contact them, he added.

Girinath also added that as water scarcity has been reported, BWSSB has been tasked to supply water by the deputy commissioner as the monsoon has failed. "BWSSB will press 200 tankers to supply water to affected areas. Also, 100 tankers for BBMP core areas and 100 tankers will be used in town municipal council, city municipal council, and 110 villages in BBMP limits where the Cauvery water supply is yet to reach," Girinath said.

BWSSB Chairman Ram Prasath Manohar said the board had already pressed tankers in many areas and in slum pockets where water supply has taken a hit, and it has installed huge tanks attached with taps for the public. " BWSSB tankers are regularly used to fill these tanks. More than 100 tankers are pressed into service to ensure the public does not face inconvenience. The supply is free of cost," Manohar added.

On using alternative sources of water, Manohar said BWSSB, on a pilot basis, is using treated water from Rachenahalli Lake and six other water-bodies of the 186, and the plan is to fill all the lakes with tertiary treated water and recharge groundwater.

"Of the 33 sewage treatment plants (STP), 1,380 MLD of water is sourced and the work on 14 STPs to source 124 MLD of water is also in progress. BWSSB aims to source 2,100 MLD of treated water in two years," he added.

Activists concerned about borewell drilling near lakes

ENS @ Bengaluru

WITH incidents of rampant drilling of borewells near lakes and BBMP officials turning a blind eye to the drilling of commercial borewells in lake buffer zones, lake activists are concerned about the water bodies potentially drying up. Medahalli residents highlighted the alleged drilling of borewells at Yele Mallapa Shetty Lake and asked officials to look into it.

Similarly, activists have alleged that a person, identified as Srinivas, is allegedly extracting water from the Vibhutipura Lake buffer zone, without any permission and ward engineers have deliberately not filed any case against him. A resident from Medahalli, said, "We have noticed a borewell being drilled near Yele Mallappa Shetty lake premises. The BWSSB and BBMP need to check if this is permitted. The borewell seems to be commercial. In KR Puram and Mahadevapura, several illegal borewells have been dug by construction mafia, but BWSSB officials come and just give warnings and impose petty fine."

A resident of Basavanagar in Vignana Nagar, KR Puram, said there is a commercial borewell in the buffer zone of Vibhuthipura lake. A political leader has rented the place to drill a borewell and supply water for commercial purposes.

"Bescom has supplied power, while BWSSB officials have kept mum and BBMP ward engineers, who are supposed to take action, have shown little courage to act against this lawlessness," alleged an activist.

Reacting, BWSSB Chairman Ram Parsat Manohar said they are working out provisions to act against illegal borewells.

WOMEN-POWERED LEAP TO IMPROVE LAST-MILE CONNECT TO METRO STNS

BENGALURU: Aimed at boosting last-mile connectivity and encouraging greater use of public transport, mobility provider Alstom has introduced Low Emission Access to Public Transport (LEAP), a programme under its CSR initiative, partnering with World Resource Institute (WRI) India. 'RAMAN EFFECT'

NATIONAL SCIENCE DAY: B'LURU CELEBRATES SCIENTIFIC SPIRIT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

COMMEMORATING the discovery of the 'Raman Effect' by Indian physicist Sir CV Raman on February 28, 1928, the National Science Day was celebrated with full fervour in Bengaluru, with many institutions organising engaging events, lectures, demonstrations, quizzes and experiments for the public to get a hands-on experience.

During the celebrations at Jawaharlal Nehru Planetarium on Tuesday, Minor Irrigation, Science & Technology Minister NS Boseraju revealed that Nehru STREAM (Science, Technology, Robotics, Environment and Ecology, Astronomy, and Mathematics) Labs would be established in government schools to impart new skills to students and foster a research-based approach. "These labs will nurture curiosity, stimulate creativity, and ignite imagination in young learners," he said.

Nehru Labs will provide a conducive environment for students to engage in discussions, research, and devise solutions to real-world problems. A curriculum focused on 21st-century skill development will be integrated into the lab activities. This multidisciplinary curriculum will help students gain practical experience.

After a government circular was issued, students across the state were also seen taking the pledge to cultivate a scientific mindset and uphold humanitarian values. Madhu Bangarappa, Minister for Primary Education and Literacy, and MC Sudhakar, Minister for Higher Education, emphasised the plans to establish science centres at the district level for students.

The Science Gallery Bengaluru also held a quiz around fun facts that encapsulated a lot of scientific concepts around everyday life. A lecture series was held in Bengaluru City University on different scientific discoveries and the need to empower R&D in domestic technology at the CV Raman hall, where Raman's discovery led to a Nobel prize. Similarly, Bangalore University also participated in the pledge to build scientific spirit.

School students arrive at Jawaharlal Nehru Planetarium for the National Science Day celebrations in Bengaluru on Wednesday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA.

NIMHANS EXHIBITION

NIMHANS will hold a two-day exhibition on February 29 and March 1 at its Convention Centre, as part of the National Science Day, with the theme: 'Indigenous Technologies for Viksit Bharat'. The exhibition will showcase some of the innovative and cutting-edge scientific activities conducted at NIMHANS.

GITAM'S MURTI CENTRE

GITAM University inaugurated the Multidisciplinary Unit of Research on Translational Initiatives (MURTI) Research Centre. It aims to drive innovation in Basic Sciences, Mobility Technologies, Materials and Manufacturing, Communication, Agriculture, and Sensor Technologies.

Kannada board deadline ends, violators to face action

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH the deadline for shops and establishments to compulsorily display sign boards with 60% in Kannada ending on Wednesday (February 28), the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has issued a circular to all zonal officers asking them to initiate action against the violators.

According to BBMP officials, commercial industries and business enterprises, trusts, counseling centres, hospitals, laboratories, recreation centres, and hotels, etc., operating with permission and sanction from the government or local authorities shall use Kannada language on nameplates.

Accordingly, in a meeting held under the chairmanship of BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on February 2 and 12, all commercial enterprises under the civic body's purview have to compulsorily put up such nameplates by February 28.

All traders were instructed to display 60% Kannada language failing which their trade licenses would be suspended. Further, notice was issued to 55,187 commercial shops/businesses to adopt Kannada language nameplates. Accordingly, as on February 28, 52,134 commercial enterprises have followed the rules under the Kannada Language Comprehensive Development Act.

The BBMP Special Commissioner, Health Department, has also issued a circular to take necessary action against 3,044 commercial enterprises for not implementing Kannada language nameplates. BBMP will now suspend the license and also begin sealing down such establishments that did not follow the rule.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

29TH February : Neptune is the planet of the day. We don't know much about this celestial body and there's been only a couple of space probes which have passed close by. But it seems to represent a choice of circumstances here on Earth; either great mysticism and inspiration, or confusion and muddle. Take your pick!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
As from today, children will be an increasingly important element in your life. You may take this literally or follow a metaphorical path and understand that it is time to liberate what psychologists call 'the inner child', the part of you which never grew up, becoming more joyful and spontaneous in the process.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Circumstances beyond your control may be compelling you into family arrangements which are not of your choosing. If you find current developments unwelcome it would be very useful to check out any little way in which you have yourself contributed to the situation.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Life is moving on day by day and week by week, and you will soon need to be an expert on everything. The more you know, the better off you'll be, so you'll have to keep the facts at your fingertips. You'll also need to understand the inner meaning of today's events!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You needn't expect to have your usual amount of drive and determination over the next few weeks. It seems increasingly obvious that you are heading for a period which is ideal for rest, reflection and recuperation. Your zest for life is soon to increase, so enjoy it.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It is difficult not to be totally awestruck by the truly splendid pattern which is now building up in your sign. The good news is that there is more to come, but when you are showered with opportunities, as you will soon be, you must learn to discriminate between what is worthwhile and what is not.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Astrological tradition has it that you are deeply concerned with the movement and subtle phases of Mercury. According to this planet, your mood is now to become more analytical and communicative, which should do you a power of good. Look after yourself - you deserve only the best!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Children and younger relatives need a firm hand. The stars indicate a need for authority, yet in my opinion they are a mite too inflexible. You may therefore wish to be absolutely firm as regards your principles, but judge each situation on its merits.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Financial affairs will soon require more thought. Among other things, this means that you must talk to partners about your spending plans. Tell them what you're doing and they'll almost certainly go along with you. Your romantic hopes are rising, by the way, but they may be too high to be met.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The romantic situation is looking positively rosy, although it does seem that, if one arrangement is to be confirmed, there must be a break in another. You can at least maintain an atmosphere of goodwill and cooperation with a particular person, even if your spirit has moved on.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
If you take on too many new engagements or projects, you may let yourself in for a number of false starts. It could be far better to stick with what you know and concentrate on building up your future security. Then, you'll be able to launch an adventurous initiative from a firm base.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your daily transits indicate the need to complete shopping and financial exercises first, and then discuss the relevant issues and consequences. Do yourself a favour and look for ways to make life more enjoyable. And don't be annoyed by unreliable partners or colleagues. They may not be able to help it!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You must now convey your true feelings. It may be that you will do well if you concentrate on making the right impression, but if you are to convince family members, you must have a healthy grasp of the facts. It's no use relying on them to agree with you, just because you're you!

CM threatens stern action if FSL report proves pro-Pak slogan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

EVEN as the controversy surrounding Congress Rajya Sabha member Syed Naseer Hussain's followers allegedly raising a pro-Pakistan slogan rocked Assembly and Council proceedings, the state government on Wednesday warned that stern action would be taken if the Forensic Science Laboratory (FSL) report proved that such a slogan was indeed raised.

"If the FSL report proves that a slogan was raised in favour of Pakistan, serious action will be taken in this regard. There is no question of protecting those who raised slogans in favour of Pakistan," Chief Minister Siddaramaiah told mediapersons on Wednesday.

Police registered a suo-motu case against "unknown persons" on Tuesday evening, and video footage has been sent to FSL for tests. The Opposition BJP leaders have also filed a complaint against Hussain and his followers, seeking action.

Stern action will be taken against whoever raised slogans against the nation, he reiterated. Responding to a question from reporters about allegations of such an incident taking place in Vidhana Soudha, the CM asked what difference would it make to those who want to raise slogans.

In the Assembly, Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara informed the members that it is a serious matter and the entire nation is looking at them."This incident should not have happened. A section of the media is reporting that such slogans were raised, while some of those present at the spot are saying they did not hear such slogans. We immediately registered a suo-motu case," he said.

The Home Minister said Hussain had taken passes for 25 people and the police are questioning them. "We are waiting for the FSL report and if it proves anything, we will take action without delay. We are not protecting anyone," Parameshwara said.

Further, Parameshwara said that not just in this case, but if anyone is found raising such slogans anywhere in the state, the government will act against them. "Investigation is on and I cannot disclose information now," he said.

Meanwhile, in the State Legislative Council, Law Minister HK Patil said if anyone raised such a slogan, the government would not sit quietly and if anyone played mischief, action would be taken against them, the minister said.

Senior Congress leaders, including Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, claimed that the BJP is trying to twist the issue for political reasons. The police are taking action as per the law and if anyone is spreading misinformation, action will be taken against them as well, the DCM said.

Row cooked up by BJP dirty tricks dept, will file defamation case: Naseer

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

WITH the Opposition BJP taking the ruling Congress to task over the alleged 'Pro-Pakistan' slogan controversy, Congress Rajya Sabha MP Syed Naseer Hussain has decided to file a defamation case, and stated that the whole episode "smacks of conspiracy".

In an exclusive chat with TNIE, Hussain said, "It is obvious that the entire issue is completely cooked up, false and fictitious. No one present at the venue at that time heard the 'Pakistan Zindabad' slogan. I met a large number of media persons. Maybe there were about a 100 people and more than 15 journalists who were asking me questions one to one and no one heard it. I will file a defamation case against all those who willfully defamed me."

The MP pointed out that television footage and recordings make it clear that his supporters were chanting 'Nasir Sab Zindabad' and 'Nasir Sir Zindabad' and not 'Pakistan Zindabad' as it was being made out.

It is a conspiracy by one motivated party and they had used it time and again on so many occasions that such allegations have lost the novelty factor, he said and added sarcastically that they need to think of new ways now.

Hussain, who won the RS seat for an another six-year term with 47 votes, has been backed by both the Congress state and central leadership on the issue. They are all aware that the issue is "purely manufactured," he added.

Asked why he was the one being targeted among the Congress candidates, he said the answer is obvious. "You know the answer."

"The BJP's dirty tricks department has come up with this because they are visibly frustrated that they could not win the second RS seat and because two of their MLAs did not vote for their candidate. This is purely out of frustration," he said.

On BJP leaders raising the issue in the Assembly and Council and staging protests, he said Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara has said in the House that an investigation has been taken up and the FSL was looking into the issue.

POWER TARIFF REDUCED BY 110 PAISE/UNIT

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AFTER a gap of 15 years, the Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission (KERC) on Wednesday reduced the power tariff by 110 paise per unit for 2024-25. This is against the proposed hike by electric supply companies (Escoms) of 49-163 paise per unit.

With this, domestic consumers will pay Rs 5.90 per unit instead of Rs 7 from April 1. There will be no changes for those getting zero bills under the Gruha Jyothi scheme.

The KERC order, which was released on its website on Wednesday, stated, "LT domestic lighting energy charges reduced by 110 paise per unit for consumption above 100 units."

The last time the tariff was reduced was in 2008 when KERC cut it by 50 paise. For 2023-24, KERC had increased the power tariff by 70 paise per unit.

KERC stated that energy charges for HT commercial consumers too have been reduced by 125 paise per unit and demand charges by Rs 10 per KVA. For HT industrial consumers, the tariff has been reduced by 50 paise per unit and demand charges by Rs 10 per KVA.

The Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Limited (Bescom) too released an order on Wednesday, stating that there will be zero charges for March under the fuel and power purchase cost adjustment (first amendment) regulations.

An energy department official explained that the reduction in power tariff is not because of the upcoming Lok Sabha elections. It is because of the heavy financial burden the state government is bearing in view of its free power scheme.

He said that in Bescom limits, the government is paying a subsidy of Rs 7 per unit, which is the same rate charged to the consumer. This subsidy burden was too high for the government and that was the reason the tariff was reduced, he added.

As per energy department records, 1,67,14,045 consumers are availing benefits under the Gruha Jyothi scheme. Of them, 69,30,742 are in Bescom limits.

As per KERC orders, the peak hours are from 6 am to 9 am and 6 pm to 10 pm. To encourage use of electric vehicles, energy charges for EV charging stations continues to be at a reduced tariff of Rs 4.50 per unit. To promote the purchase and use of energy from renewable sources, KERC announced the green tariff of 50 paise per unit over and above the applicable tariff to HT consumers.

Reacting to the revision in tariff, MG Prabhakar, energy expert, said, "It's a rationalised and reasoned order. With this order, a consumer who had applied for a prepaid meters will now have to pay a security deposit of one month instead of two months. The special incentive scheme will give fillip to the industrial sector and will help in its growth."

FKCCI president Ramesh Chandra Lahoti said, "The reduction in energy charges, especially for industrial and commercial categories, is a welcome move. FKCCI also appreciates KERC for reducing the burden on industrial and commercial sectors by disallowing Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited's (KPTCL) claim for Rs 1,486.23 crore towards the government's portion of pension and gratuity."

Assembly hits new low with unparliamentary words

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PROCEEDINGS in the Karnataka Assembly hit a new low on Wednesday with members from the ruling and opposition parties, and even Speaker UT Khader using unparliamentary words in the House.

BJP MLA and senior leader Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, who raised the issue of followers of newly elected Rajya Sabha member Naseer Hussain allegedly raising pro-Pakistan slogans, said the government is trying to cover up the issue systematically. "Not not just Congress or BJP, no party can do this. We got Independence after much struggle. We dreamt of a united India," he said.

BJP MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal speaks at the Assembly on Wednesday

Referring to Dr BR Ambedkar's book The Partition of India, Yatnal said the Father of the Constitution never wanted a divided India. He had predicted incidents like this would happen causing problems. "Exactly, the way he had predicted, people are shouting pro-Pakistan slogans and hoisting the Pakistan flag. These people eat from this land and drink from this country, and they should be committed and be honest to this nation. But these T* G (Kannada words), despite getting all the benefits, are raising pro-Pakistan slogans. If anyone -- a Hindu, a Muslim or a Christian -- is pro-Pakistan, they are T* G* and they should be punished. They are namak haraam," he added.

Objecting to this, senior Congress MLA and former minister Basavaraj Rayareddi said such words cannot be used inside the House as they are unparliamentary. But Speaker Khader said such words have been used in the House earlier, and that Yatnal is using such words for pro-Pakistan people. Rayareddi asked, "Does it mean we can use B M or S M"(Kannada words)?"

Khader told him, "When you speak, you can say B M. Now sit down."

Even before Yatnal continued his speech, Khader voluntarily told him that he was giving full permission for the MLA to use such words if they are targeted at Pakistan. Yatnal said, "Since you have given permission to use such words, you are a patriot."

As the Bills were being passed amid the din, BJP members tore copies of the Bills and threw them toward the Speaker's chair. The proceedings were adjourned twice as BJP members protested.

In the Council, BJP MLC N Ravi Kumar's 'anti-national' government remark and Congress MLC Abdul Jabbar addressing him in singular sparked a heated exchange. Angered by Jabbar's remarks, BJP MLCs rushed aggressively towards ruling party members. They were stopped by the marshals.

After Chairman Basavaraj Horatti's intervention, Jabbar expressed regrets over his remarks.

Missed RS polls as I was not well: Hebbar

Yellapur (Uttara Kannada): Yellapur BJP MLA Shivaram Hebbar, who abstained from voting in the Rajya Sabha elections on Tuesday, claimed that he was absent as he was not well on that day.

"Absences and cross-voting happens in other states too, but the reason for me abstaining from voting was my health," he told reporters on Wednesday. "I was not well and also like my other party colleagues, I am not in favour of the BJP's alliance with the JDS," he said. He said he has been unhappy with the party since the Assembly elections. "There were efforts to defeat me. I informed the party higher ups about this. Six persons were disqualified and recently it was quashed," he said. ENS

SOME IN WAIT-AND-WATCH MODE, BUT FEW WANT ACTION AGAINST NASEER

The issue of supporters of newly elected Congress Rajya Sabha member Syed Naseer Hussain allegedly raising pro-Pakistan slogans has not gone down well with a section of Congress leaders. While a few Congress leaders have distanced themselves from the issue, some, including ministers, are waiting for the FSL report to take a stand. "If proven, Naseer should be shown the doors as it will otherwise harm the Congress' prospects in the LS elections," a minister said, adding that the police personnel present there should have taken those who chanted the slogan into custody immediately. Another Congress leader felt it is a matter of concern for a few partymen who have adapted soft-Hindutva to combat the united JDS-BJP opposition. "The issue has come in the right time for BJP and JDS. They are trying to polarise the Hindu votes," another minister opined. "Those who claimed that they raised slogans in favour of Naseer and merely shouted 'Nasir saab zindabad' should appear before the media and say that they did not raise slogans supporting Pakistan," another party leader said. But supporters of AICC chief Mallikarjun Kharge have already given a clean chit to Naseer, a close confidant of Kharge. ENS

Abandon fiction, speak truth: Min to BJP

"THIS is the place where the Constitution is supposed to be safeguarded. Police not taking action against those who raised such a slogan here has created fear among people. Why did your party allow them inside Vidhana Soudha with a red carpet," Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka asked.

He said over 500 policemen, senior police officers and the entire government was present. "How did they get the courage to raise the slogan? We don't know if they were terrorists," he said.

MLA Sunil Kumar said that when Hussain's followers were raising "Pakistan Zindabad" slogans, some people tried to stop them. "If it was just 'Naseer Zindabad', why would someone stop them," he asked. He said the state government invites people like (UK professor) Nitasha Kaul, who is anti-India. "Since you have such an attitude and invite such persons, people like them dare to raise pro-Pakistan slogans," he said.

He also hit out at RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge and some other ministers, saying they have concluded such slogans were not raised even before FSL gave its report.

Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda hit out at BJP, asking them to abandon fiction and speak the truth.

Panel to submit caste survey report today

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka State Commission for Backward Classes (KSCBC) is all set to submit the much-awaited report on the socio-economic education survey, also known as caste survey, to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday.

Successive governments, including Siddaramaiah's, had dragged their feet on accepting the report that had been mired in controversies. The government had spent a whopping Rs 162 crore for the door-to-door survey. The report is coming at a time when the Congress has been promising to conduct a caste survey with impetus on backwardness of the SC, ST, OBC communities if the I.N.D.I.A bloc comes to power after the upcoming Lok Sabha polls. Even senior party leader Rahul Gandhi had made a statement in this regard.

"We will fulfil our responsibility by submitting the detailed report along with the data collected during the survey to the government," commission chairman K Jayaprakash Hegde told TNIE. His term along with the five members of the commission, which was extended, will come to an end on Thursday.

The 300-400-page report consists of the analysis of the data regarding backwardness of the communities and has certain recommendations, according to sources. Present member-secretary of the commission, K A Dayananda, who is commissioner of the Backward Classes Department, has signed the "modified" report. After receiving the report, the government is likely to table it during a cabinet meeting, scheduled to be held on Thursday, for necessary action.

Vokkaliga and Veerashaiva-Lingayat leaders across all parties are opposing the government's plan to accept it. But SC, ST and OBC communities are in favour of the report and are backing Siddaramaiah to the hilt to accept it. They feel that it will come in handy for the government to understand their backwardness and give adequate representation. Now, the report is likely to create ripples and a fresh round of controversy especially as the LS polls are just round the corner.

During his first term as chief minister in 2013-2018, Siddaramaiah had initiated the survey by appointing H Kantharaju as chairman of the commission in 2015. But his government could not receive the report as it was not complete and successive governments had followed suit. When H D Kumaraswamy, B S Yediyurappa and Basavaraj Bommai were chief ministers, they too deferred accepting it.

Country set to take a big leap forward, says Jaishankar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi/Hubballi

THE country is heading to another level, riding on 10 years of phenomenal growth in most of the sectors, External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar said here on Wednesday. "The coming world will be based on Artificial Intelligence, chips, electric mobility, robotics etc. Under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the foundation he laid in the last decade, the nation is set to take a big leap forward in the coming days," he added.

Inaugurating a new school of KLE Society in Chikkodi, 70km from Belagavi, on Wednesday, Jaishankar said the country's economic ranking stood at 11 when Modi took over as PM and has reached number 5 in the last 10 years. "Modi's guarantee is that the country will become number 3 in the world soon. But I am sure India will be the world's top economy soon," said Jaishankar.

'Don't believe global indices'

Interacting with students in Hubballi, Jaishankar said showing India in a poor light in various global indices was politics by other means, and parties that failed to do well domestically were making their friends abroad draft such reports.

EAM Dr S Jaishankar speaks at a function in Chikkodi on Wednesday

In response to a student's query on India being at the bottom on various global indices, Jaishankar's retort was, "How much will you believe in them?" He added that there was always a political agenda behind them. On the country's poor ranking in the hunger index, he said, "How can our neighbouring countries have a higher ranking when we export food to them?"

A student put the External Affairs Minister in a spot by asking about his diplomatic approach, like "offensive defence and defensive offence". The minister said diplomacy was nothing but politics with foreign countries. "If the opposite country wants to push us to the wall, we change our approach from defensive to offensive," he said.

Asked about working with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Jaishankar said being a minister in Modi's cabinet was a tough job but also an enjoyable experience. The prime minister pushes to the extreme and also works in the same way, he said.

Earlier, he released a booklet on the performance of Union Minister for Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi during his two decades as Dharwad MP.

PFI raised ₹9 cr, trained youth for terror activities: NIA to court

Members of banned outfit split into bodyguard, service teams; Probe agency objects to bail petitions filed by 7 activists, says they held various conspiracy meetings

YATHIRAJU @BENGALURU

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) disclosed that accused office-bearers and members of the banned Popular Front of India (PFI) raised Rs 9.10 crore from unknown sources between 2011 and 2022 to train its cadres to indulge in unlawful activities. More than half of the amount was deposited through cash in small tranches of Rs 50,000 each and there was no audit on these transactions.

Objecting to the bail applications filed by seven accused before the NIA Special Court in the city, NIA stated that they held various conspiracy meetings, recruited youth to commit terrorist acts, raised funds and imparted training on how to use weapons at Freedom Educational and Charitable Trust at Mittur of Bantwal taluk of Dakshina Kannada district.

The meetings were to strengthen PFI to commit terror acts against Hindu leaders. PFI intended to make India an Islamic republic by 2047 just like how it was when ruled by Islamic rulers. Members were told that RSS and Hindu leaders were their enemies and the country was under the rule of Hindus after Independence and Hindu-favouring governments brought laws like CAA, NRC to cause hindrance to Muslims, it stated.

The statements of protected witnesses and evidence, placed by NIA, stated that a preliminary session of two-three months was conducted for the youth at Mittur to show that RSS and Sangh Parivar were their main enemies.

Later, on the pretext of conducting a Yoga session, they were trained in using machetes and swords. One Sharief Kodaje and Abdul Khader Puttur told the participants to retaliate by brutally murdering Hindu leaders if PFI leaders and members were attacked.

> As part of the conspiracy, Rudresh of Shivajinagar, Harsha of Shivamogga, Praveen Nettaru, Prashanth Poojari of Mangaluru and Raju of Mysuru and others were eliminated, besides creating riots in Chamarajpet, KG Halli-DJ Halli and Hubballi-Dharwad — NIA

The trained youth were divided into two teams - the PFI Service/Special team and the Bodyguard team. Physically well-built youth were chosen for the service team and they were given special training in using weapons by persons from Kerala. The bodyguard team was used to escort PFI leaders.

A wing within the service team was allegedly tasked with tracking Hindu activists. It was asked to photograph and videograph the programmes of such activists and send it to the service team head Mohammed Sharief Kodaje and Ayub Agnadi.

Service team members were instructed to stock weapons in houses and mosques and to revolt against the country whenever PFI leaders gave a call.

Abdul Khader Puttur was allegedly taking care of the youth coming for training, while Kodaje and Bajpe used to supply knives, iron rods and swords required for the training.

As part of the conspiracy, Rudresh of Shivajinagar, Harsha of Shivamogga, Praveen Nettaru, Prashanth Poojari of Mangaluru and Raju of Mysuru and others were eliminated, besides creating riots in Chamarajpet, KG Halli-DJ Halli and Hubballi-Dharwad, the NIA told the court.

The bail petitions were filed by PFI state president Naseer Pasha, General Secretary Ayub K Agnadi, Secretary P Abdul Khadar, PFI committee member AK Ashraf, PFI Davanagere district president Shahid Khan, Sheikh Ezaz Ali and Mohammad Tapseer. Judge Gangadhara CM said there is a bar under Section 43D(5) of Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act to grant bail.

Bitcoin scam: Accused DySP rams his car into cops' bike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a bid to escape from sleuths of the Special Investigation Team (SIT) of the Criminal Investigation Department (CID) probing the bitcoin scam, Deputy Superintendent of Police (DySP) Sridhar K Pujar allegedly rammed his car into a bike on which two police staffers had come to pick him up, and sped away. The incident took place near Coffee Board Junction on Ambedkar Veedhi, around 1pm Tuesday. An accused in the case, the DySP attached to the Internal Security Division (ISD), was denied anticipatory bail recently.

Bhaskar, assistant sub-inspector on deputation to CID, and Anil Kumar G, detective police inspector with CID, were tasked with tracing Pujar and producing him before the investigation officer. The duo received credible information that Pujar was near Government Science College, close to the City Civil and Sessions Court. Immediately, the officers on the bike approached Pujar, who was seated in his car with his advocate.

Inspector Anil approached Pujar and told him that he needed to accompany them for investigation, following which Pujar responded with foul language and began driving the vehicle, the complaint filed by Bhaskar stated.

As Pujar started the car, it grazed Bhaskar's bike, causing him to lose balance. Pujar then briefly paused so his advocate could exit the car, then sped away. Police officials chased Pujar until they reached Coffee Board Junction, where the latter halted at a traffic signal. Anil and Bhaskar approached him once again and requested him to cooperate. In response, Pujar threatened them and moved his car, even as Bhaskar was speaking through the car window, leaving him injured, and sped away, the complaint mentioned.

Following the incident, police registered a fresh case against the DySP under IPC 307 (attempt to murder), 332 (voluntarily causing hurt to deter public servant from his duty), 353 (assault or criminal force to deter public servant from discharge of duty), 506 (criminal intimidation) and 504 (intentional insult).

'Shut private diagnostic labs within 200m of govt hosps'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Health and Family Welfare Department has directed the district health officials across Karnataka to take action and close down private diagnostic labs that are functioning within a 200 m radius of government health facilities. In a circular dated February 27, then Health Commissioner Randeep D said that according to the Karnataka Private Medical Establishments (Amendment) Act 2017, there should be no new private labs set up within 200 m of government facilities from 2019.

He said that the health commissionerate was in the reception of complaints that the private labs were functional within 200 m of government hospital premises. District health officials have been asked to inspect the private labs under their jurisdiction and also to verify if they were falling under the 200 m zone from government facilities and directed them to take steps to close them down in a circular dated October 2023. However, there has been no significant action based on the circular, the health commissioner said.

He directed officials to take action against erring private labs under KPME and share the consolidated report of the ones that are closed down before March 30.

Sanctions have positive effect on Russia: Strategist

Union Minister Hardeep Singh Puri inaugurates the International Study Centre at REVA University in Bengaluru on Wednesday | EXPRESS

A strong India-Russia relationship is good for global stability in the world order, which is shifting rapidly from bipolar to multilateral and polycentric, said Dr Feodor Voitolovsky, director, Primakov Institute of World Economy and International Relations (IMEMO), Russia. He was speaking on 'Russia and India in the Changing World Order - Track II Dialogue' during the inauguration of REVA Centre of Excellence for Geopolitics & International Studies, REVA University.

Voitolovsky said the two countries have "strong interests in a very balanced polycentric, multilateral system in which they can play a significant role. Our countries do not have any contradictory visions of international systems and do not have contradictory interests. This is the best driver for our efforts to build a polycentric world order. There will never again be a bipolar world order, whether it is China or the United States", when asked by TNIE regarding the transition in geopolitics and the world order.

Asked about the time line of the ongoing Russia-Ukraine war, its impact on the world economy and sanctions on Russia, Voitolovsky said the impact of sanctions is having more "psychological effect than economic" and gave the example of soaring Russian trade with India. "In 2023, India-Russia trade had mounted to $65 billion. It's a fantastic figure considering that earlier, it was around $8 billion. The decision of Prime Minister Modi to continue and develop trade relations with Russia was rational and in India's interest. The sanctions have a positive effect on Russia. The limitation on trade with the European Union has driven Russia actively to work with the Asian market and India, which is a permanently growing market. I see a growing demand for Indian goods and services in Russian markets in the last two years. The next step is investment cooperation," he added.

Regarding the future of Russia-Ukraine war, Dr Alexey Kupriyanov, head of Centre of the Indo-Pacific Region, IMEMO, said there is no clarity on when the Russia-Ukraine conflict will end and that sanctions will be much longer than the conflict. "It's easier to put sanctions but much harder to end them. Our interest in Eastern markets will continue even after sanctions are lifted," said Kupriyanov.

Speaking about the India-Russia relationship, Prof Madhav Das Nalapat, REVA University Advisory Board member, said, "India has maintained a close and warm relationship with Russia despite so many geopolitical challenges and a lot of advice to the contrary from individuals who are important policy makers in countries exceptionally close to us, for example the US." He added that India and the United States are the two closest countries because of huge people to people connect. He underscored the need for a bigger people to people (PtoP) connect with Russia.

The Centre for International Studies and Geo Politics was inaugurated by Union Minister for Petroleum and Natural Gas, Housing and Urban Affairs, Hardeep Singh Puri. He congratulated Chancellor, REVA University, Dr P Shyama Raju and Pro Chancellor Umesh S Raju on their expansive academic endeavour and opening of the Centre. He highlighted Prime Minister Modi's role in steering the country forward, bringing India to the "centre of geopolitics".

Puri added that "we are in a phase of transition towards greater good. India's imminent rise as the world's third-largest economy in the next five years is a given". The two-day event was part of REVA University's 'Vishwa Samvad 2024'.

At govt job mela, 9,651 recruited on the spot, over 15K on hope list

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AT the two-day mega job mela organized by the state government, of 86,451 job aspirants, only 9,651 were recruited on the spot. As many as 15,461 job aspirants attended interviews, and the government expects that they will also be employed.

On Wednesday, addressing the media with details on participation of youths at the mela and the jobs they secured, Skill Development and Medical Education Minister Dr Sharan Prakash Patil said, "In all, 86,451 job aspirants, including 53,913 male and 32,494 female candidates, had registered online. Of them, 44,527 candidates attended the job fair and 9,651 got jobs on the spot as per their educational qualifications. Applications of 16,865 candidates are under scrutiny, 2,457 applications have been rejected for technical reasons, 15,461 aspirants attended interviews and their details are being examined and they would also get jobs. The two-day job fair was a great success that beat our expectations."

Giving sector-wise recruitment, the minister said the aviation sector recruited 26, automotive 74, electronics 29, health 27, telecom 19, services sector 36, agriculture 6, garment 6, beauty 3, telecom 19 and textile 1.

Patil said the job fair would be held in three zones across the state in the coming days. "Preparations are under way to conduct job fairs in Kalaburagi, Belagavi and Mysuru. We will also set up skill education centres for job aspirants at Koppal in Kalyana Karnataka region and Mysuru. Our department is taking steps to provide jobs to over 25,000 youths who have completed job-oriented courses," he said.

Inspired by the Kerala government's initiative to promote employment, the minister stated that Karnataka would start a company on the lines of Overseas Development and Employment Promotion Consultants Ltd. (ODEPC), a Government of Kerala undertaking.

"The state government will start an overseas employment promotion company along the Kerala model, to facilitate multinational companies to find required human resources. This firm would provide information to those who have completed engineering, diploma, ITI and other job-oriented courses, and 49 companies have already shown interest. IBM has come forward to provide training to over 5,000 job aspirants. The proposed overseas company would act as a communication channel and provide information on the available human resources in the state. This would also make job search a hassle-free exercise," Dr Patil opined.

Man dupes 3 women with fake online profiles

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Davangere Railway police have arrested a 45-year-old man from Rajasthan for deceiving three women with promises of marriage. The accused, who had befriended at least 250 women, specifically targeted those who identified as widows or divorcees on matrimonial sites. Operating under the alias Pavan Agarwal, he manipulated these women with promises of marriage and extorted money from them.

The police said the accused, Naresh Pujari Goswami, has been residing in Bengaluru for over two decades and is employed at a clothing shop in Chickpet. Goswami is alleged to have fabricated profiles using images of young men, portraying himself as a Customs official and software engineer on matrimonial and social media sites.

Following a complaint from a victim in Coimbatore, the police initiated an investigation.

The police said that Goswami had called the victim and her parents from Coimbatore to Bengaluru for a meeting. He asked them to give Rs 10,000 at the railway station stating that he wanted to reserve a ticket for his relatives following which he fled the scene.

Dr SD Sharanappa, DIGP Railways, Bengaluru, said, "Using pre-activated SIM cards, the accused befriended over 250 women including 56 from Rajasthan, 32 from Uttar Pradesh, 32 from Delhi, 17 from Karnataka, 16 from Madhya Pradesh, 13 from Maharashtra, 11 from Gujarat, 6 from Tamil Nadu, 6 from Bihar and Jharkhand and two from Andhra Pradesh."

HC advocate alleges scam in hiring of dentists

Bengaluru: Roster and merit system were not followed while filling up 88 dental doctors in the state by former health minister Dr Sudhakar and officials of the then health department, alleged High Court advocate RR Hiremath, who is also the working president of Karnataka Rajya Sharana Vakkilara Vedike. Addressing the media here on Wednesday, Hiremath said, "Karnataka government issued a notification in 2019 and recruited dental doctors in 2020. Many candidates have secured the job illegally by paying bribes. The then health minister Dr Sudhakar and the health officials flouted all the rules and granted jobs to those who paid money. With this, the injustice is done to deserving meritorious candidates." Hiremath urged Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao to order for a CID inquiry into the recruitment. ENS

DMK blocking Union Govt schemes, says Modi

'India which is 5th largest economy will reach 2nd largest in our rule; green capacity of Tamil Nadu will be utilised'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Tirunelveli

Shipping Minister Sarbananda Sonawal hands over the Sengol to the PM in Thoothukudi

PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi alleged that the DMK government is blocking welfare projects being introduced by the central government for Tamil Nadu, addressing his party cadre here on Wednesday.

The Prime Minister further accused that the DMK and Congress were doing dynasty politics. "The welfare schemes of the central government have brought the Tamil Nadu people closure to New Delhi. Five years ago, only 21 lakh people had drinking water connection at their homes in Tamil Nadu. This has now increased to one crore now. About 40 lakh women in Tamil Nadu have got a gas cylinder facility. Whenever India grows, Tamil Nadu grows. The DMK government is blocking welfare projects being introduced by the Central government for Tamil Nadu. Despite that, we are bringing more projects for the benefit of the people of this State. The DMK has indulged in hate politics. Some people are politicising Hindi and Tamil languages. However, the Union Minister of State L Murugan from Tamil Nadu has been elected MP from a Hindi-speaking State," he added.

Modi hoped that his party would be voted to power for the third consecutive time in the upcoming parliamentary election. "With the experience gained in 10 years, we will boldly implement various schemes in the next five years. India which is now the fifth largest economy will reach second position in our rule. The green energy capacity of Tamil Nadu will be utilised. The Tamil Nadu students can study medicine and engineering in Tamil. The Tirunelveli, Thoothukudi, Ramanathapuram and Virudhunagar districts will get solar power plant projects. Virudhunagar's to-be-established textile park will offer employment to over two lakh people," he added. The Prime Minister further said that his government safely rescued captain Abhinandan from Pakistan and the fishermen who were awarded the death sentence in Sri Lankan.

Modi said that the DMK had published an advertisement on Wednesday in the newspapers by printing the images of Chinese rockets for the function of laying foundation stone to the Kulasekarapattinam spaceport. The Prime Minister further regretted his inability to address his party cadre in Tamil. "However, the cadres understand what I am talking about from their hearts and respond to my speech. I am thankful for that. The BJP will come to power winning more than 400 seats in the upcoming general election. Even opposition parties know this. All sections of people in Tamil Nadu have confidence in the BJP. The people of Tirunelveli are sweet like halwa," he said.

Addressing the cadre, the BJP State president K Annamalai alleged that the DMK government was registering false cases against the opposition party functionaries and spreading false news against them. "The BJP cadre should work hard in the next 60 days to win in all parliamentary constituencies of Tamil Nadu and Puducherry. The DMK should be defeated," he demanded. The BJP floor leader Nainar Nagendran said that Narendra Modi was the first Prime Minister to visit Tirunelveli since his childhood. Union Minister of State L Murugan, BJP MLAs Vanathi Srinivasan and M R Gandhi, former Union Minister Pon Radhakrishnan and former MLA Vijayadharani were present.

CAT stays DFO's suspension over row with MLA

ENS @Bengaluru

THE Central Administrative Tribunal (CAT) has stayed the order to suspend IFS officer Shivanand Naikawadi from the post of Deputy Conservator of Forests (DFO), Ghataprabha Division in Gokak.

"The operation of the government order dated February 21, 2024, issued by the Chief Secretary, is stayed till the next date of hearing," said the bench, comprising Judicial Member Justice S Sujatha and Administrative Member Rakesh Kumar Gupta, while issuing a notice to the state government. Shivanand stated in his application that the range forest officer filed a complaint in January 2023 about an unauthorised construction in Sy. No. 588B in Raibag Reserved Forest by a contractor to accommodate a social range forest office.

The contractor put pressure on Shivanand by approaching powerful persons and he used to receive phone calls from different persons, asking him to permit the illegal construction. Many calls were from a few unscrupulous persons, impersonating Duryodhana Aihole, Raibag MLA. They threatened him with dire consequences. Shivanand was fed up with such calls. On receiving a call again on January 8, 2024, thinking that the caller was another impersonator he retorted by sternly questioning the credentials of the caller.

The caller introduced himself as the MLA. Shivanand stated that he had no intention of insulting or threatening the MLA, but it appeared that the MLA recorded the conversation on his phone and released it on social media and electronic media to tarnish his image. After the MLA filed a complaint with the chief minister, the Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests issued a show-cause notice to Shivanand, to which he replied.

The chief secretary too issued a show-cause notice to Shivanand, alleging that he recorded the conversation and released it on social media. He explained to the chief secretary that his phone does not have a recording feature and narrated the circumstances that led to the incident. But without considering it, he was suspended, he stated.

Satheesh's family members blamed the police and jail officials | EXPRESS

AN undertrial prisoner died in a suspicious manner at Malle Gowda General Hospital on Wednesday morning.

Undertrial Satheesh had a tiff with his brother Siddaraju over a money matter seven years ago while he was working in his brother's hotel.

He had gone into hiding after that and was caught by the police four days ago from Hassan and sent to jail.

His sudden death within days after the arrest has angered the family members and they have blamed it on police and jail officials. In the family feud between brothers over money issues, a 307 case was registered against Satheesh. Acting on a tip-off, the city police arrested him from a house in Srinagar Extension in Hassan four days ago and sent him to Chikkamagaluru sub-jail.

After he complained of health problems, Satheesh was admitted to the local general hospital and he died on Wednesday morning.

However, the wife of the deceased, Netra was skeptical about her husband's death in a suspicious manner only four days after his arrest on a non-bailable warrant.

She alleged that her husband was beaten up and admitted to the hospital and news of death was informed to the family only this morning.

Satheesh's brother said there were injury marks on his hand, neck and body and suspected that the police and jail officials might have thrashed him brutally. Since it was the death of a prisoner who was undertrail, the judge visited the district hospital and recorded the statement of family members.

Dalits seek action for insult to Ambedkar

Mangaluru: Dalit activists demanded action against the person responsible for a social media post that claimed that the architect of the Indian Constitution was Benegal Narsing Rau (BN Rau) and not Dr BR Ambedkar. In the video, he said that school textbooks wrongly give credit to Dr Ambedkar for the Indian Constitution and asked people to inform children that it was BN Rau who was its architect. At an SC/ST meet at the City Police Commissioner's office, M Sheena Mastikatte, a retired bank official, termed the social media post as an insult to Dr Ambedkar.

YSRC govt utter flop with no sequel: Naidu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

TDP supremo N Chandrababu Naidu and Jana Sena President Pawan Kalyan launched their poll campaign in Tadepalligudem and addressed a public meeting, 'Janda', for the first time after announcing the first list of candidates for the ensuing election.

Going hammer and tongs against the YSRC government, Naidu asserted that YS Jagan Mohan Reddy's regime was nearing endgame. He described the Jagan government as 'utter flop show' with no sequel. Accusing the government of looting the State, the former chief minister reiterated that the TDP-JSP alliance had been formed to save the future of the State. Calling upon the people to chase the YSRC away from the State, he said, "The aim of our poll pact is to achieve a YSRC Vimukta Andhra Pradesh."

Emphasising that the next 40 days are crucial, Naidu asserted that the 'super hit' TDP-JSP combination would put a full stop to the YSRC regime.

Recounting the victory of TDP, JSP and BJP in the 2014 elections, Naidu said, "Post bifurcation, the State had no capital. The economy was in a disarray, but my government strove to rebuild the State with the help of human and natural resources."

Highlighting the measures taken by his government to "rebuild the State brick by brick", he said, "We came up with the Vision-2029 document and announced Amaravati as the capital. We brought 11 national educational institutions to the State, investments to the tune of ₹16 lakh crore and 10 lakh jobs. Unfortunately, all those efforts were reduced to ashes by one person, who started his regime of destruction."

Further, he lashed out at the State government for denying permission to Pawan Kalyan to land his private flight in Gannavaram. "Today, Jagan says 'Why Not 175', so we are asking 'Why Not Pulivendula'," Naidu quipped.

Woman stabbed by youth succumbs

Bhubaneswar: In a shocking incident, a 20-year-old woman died on Wednesday hours after being allegedly stabbed by a youth near her residence in Sishu Bhawan Square, one of the high security zones in the capital city. As per police, a youth had stabbed the woman identified as Deepika Ranjit at around 7 pm on Tuesday. She was rushed to Capital Hospital and later shifted to SCB Medical College and Hospital in Cuttack. Deepika succumbed on Wednesday while undergoing treatment. The accused involved in the crime has been identified and efforts are on to nab him, said DCP Prateek Singh. Sources said the woman's husband Kunjbihari Dutta alleged a youth had developed one-sided love with his wife and attacked her as she did not reciprocate to his feelings. Deepika was a native of Jaleswar and used to assist her husband in his mobile phone repair shop, said police.

Rahan Binoy, 20, Akash S D, 22, Abhishek S, 23, Sreehari R D, 23, Dons Daayi, 23 and Billgate Joshoua, 23, were arrested after hours of interrogation under the leadership of Kalpetta DySP Sajeev T N. Other accused persons include college union secretary K Arun, union member Asif Khan and SFI unit secretary Amal. Sidharth, a native of Nedumangad, was found hanging in the hostel bathroom on February 18. On February 24, the college suspended 12 students after its anti-ragging committee found he was brutally beaten up by fellow students just days leading to his death. The six arrested persons are not among the suspended students. Jayaprakash, Sidharth's father, alleged his son was beaten to death by the seniors.

Zoologists discover new sea slug species, name it after Prez Murmu

Melanochlamys droupadi

RESEARCHERS of Zoological Survey of India (ZSI) have discovered a new species of head-shield sea slug from Odisha and West Bengal coast. The new species - Melanochlamys Droupadi has been named after President of India Droupadi Murmu.

The head-shield sea slug with a ruby red spot was found along the three-km stretch from the low inter-tidal zones of Digha (WB) and Udaypur (Odisha) coast. The new species, distinct from others of the same genus, inhabits wet and soft sandy beaches.

Zoologists and researchers of ZSI led by Prasad Chandra Tudu of Marine Aquarium and Regional Centre spotted the species crawling on the inter-tidal zone during a routine study of marine species at Hospital Ghat near Old Digha, about 50 metre away from the centre. The species was confirmed after thorough examination of morphological, anatomical and molecular characteristics. The head-shield sea slug is a small invertebrate with a maximum length up to seven mm, brownish black in colour with a ruby red spot in the hind end. It is hermaphrodite and has a shell inside the body.

Melanochlamys Droupadi shares its habitat with Melanochlamys bengalensis, which was found along the coast from Digha and Dhamra in 2022, but differs morphologically. It is smaller and has mottled brown to black colouration with a ruby red spot on the posterior shield which is not found in any described species. It has a longer posterior shield (about 61 per cent of body length).

"We had collected 145 specimens from the north-eastern coast of Bay of Bengal. This is the second species of head-shield sea slug from India as most of its congeners are found in temperate regions of the Indo-Pacific Oceanic realm. Their reproduction apparently occurs between November and January," said Tudu, the lead author of the study. The sea slugs are rapid hunters and feed upon mobile prey such as other shelled and unshelled sea slugs, roundworms, marine worms and small fishes. So far, 18 species have been discovered across the globe, including one tropical species from the Gulf of Thailand. The remaining 15 species are from the temperate regions.

Director of ZSI Dhriti Banerjee said the new species Melanochlamys Droupadi has been dedicated to President Droupadi Murmu. The proposed common name is Droupadi's head-shield sea slug.

STUNT ON STUMP

This 'Spiderman' climbs coconut trees upside down

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

A youth from Gadag can climb a coconut tree upside down in just one minute. This stunt has earned him the title 'Spiderman'. Ishwar Jidagannavar (22) from Shirahatti has also been climbing buildings from his childhood days. He is now aiming at making it to the Guinness World Records and Limca Book of Records.

While many climbers struggle to climb 40-50 foot tall coconut trees in the normal posture, Ishwar has puzzled one and all with his unusual style. His videos of climbing the coconut trees have now gone viral on social media. The idea of climbing upside down came to Ishwar's mind when he saw a tree and visualised that he could climb head down.

He tried once and managed to climb up to 15 foot and came down. He practised for two years and finally started climbing 50 foot tall coconut trees. It is not an easy task by any means as the coconut tree surface is plain and slippery. People fear to climb without any equipment or ropes.

But Ishwar has never used a rope and has not slipped or fallen even once. He now wants to climb a 100 foot tall coconut tree to enter the record books.

> I want to see my name in the Guinness World Records and other record books. I have to practice more as I am planning to climb a 100 foot tall coconut tree which needs a lot of practice
>
> Ishwar Jidagannavar

Ishwar does not wear hand gloves and climbs with bare hands. He has also defied advice from his friends who told him not to risk his life. However, Ishwar says he wants to earn a name like Koti Ram, the climber of Chitradurga fort.

Some of his friends confirmed, "He has been trying to climb coconut trees for the last two years and has now become an expert. We call him spiderman as Ishwar can climb buildings and effortlessly jump from one building to the other. He has now become famous in our town and also through social media."

Ishwar said, "I want to make a name in climbing coconut trees upside down. I want to see my name in the Guinness World Records and other record books. I have to practice more as I am planning to climb 100 foot tall coconut tree and that needs a lot of practice. I thank all those who have watched my videos and blessed me."

Rajiv Gandhi assassination convict Santhan dies at 55

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

SANTHAN alias T Suthenthiraraja, one of the seven released convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case, died at 55 at the Rajiv Gandhi Government General Hospital (RGGGH) here on Wednesday. Santhan was hospitalised a month ago with complaints of breathing difficulty and swelling in the legs. He was diagnosed with cryptogenic cirrhosis, a non-alcoholic liver condition. Speaking to the press, RGGGH dean Dr E Theranirajan said, "Santhan refused a liver biopsy to know the cause for liver failure. He had memory loss now and then, he was under intensive care treatment. On Tuesday, there was deterioration in his health and he lost consciousness. He was on ventilator support. At 4 am he suffered cardiac arrest, doctors performed CPR and revived him. But that failed and at 7.50am he was declared dead."

A postmortem will be done on Thursday after necessary judicial procedures. Speaking to TNIE, P Pugalenthi, Santhan's legal advisor said, his body will be taken to Sri Lanka and necessary support has been sought from the government.

SCIENTIFIC TEMPER, A DREAM STILL FAR FROM REALISATION

JUST like a room with closed doors and windows remains without ventilation, a closed mind remains devoid of scientific temper, sound reasoning and a sense of inquisitiveness. Such minds are exposed to questionable beliefs and half-truths that give birth to myths and superstitions, and are vulnerable to getting seeded with ideas that develop hatred and divisiveness. Lack of scientific temper makes one prone to developing herd mentality—a trait that helps any political establishment trying to create and capture vote banks.

Democracy thrives with an inherent scientific temper among the people who constitute it. Or it exists with large sections of people lacking scientific temper and reasoning, divided in flocks, but kept together as a whole by the checks and balances of constitutional, legal, social and political processes acting on them. The latter is where India belongs after seven-and-a-half-decades of craving to be a thriving democracy with a scientific temper among the people. But the increasing number of people falling for rumours disguised as 'facts' on social media without questioning and spewing hate is an indicator of our poor scientific temper.

India has the distinction of being the first in the world to officially adopt scientific temper as a fundamental duty. The 42nd Amendment added Article 51 A(h) to the Constitution in 1976. It laid down developing a "scientific temper, humanism and the spirit of inquiry and reform" as a fundamental duty of every Indian citizen. Unfortunately, scientific temper is being viewed as being restricted to scientists and those linked with science streams. It is not. It goes beyond professional boundaries. It is relevant to every citizen—in fact, every human. It has to do with developing a questioning and inquisitive mind, to reason, to apply logic rather than fall for hearsay, to broaden the mind, to empathise and sympathise, to understand, and to arrive at the whole truth rather than fragments of it that fuel assumptions. Scientific temper demolishes religious bigotry and superstitions. It flattens social barriers demarcating castes, creeds, religions, languages and cultures—all abounding in a vastly diverse India. As we pass the 37th National Science Day on February 28, we need to open our eyes to the fact that we are still far from realising Rabindranath Tagore's 111-year-old vision of Indians having a "clear stream of reason that has not lost its way into the dreary desert sand of dead habit".

WAYANAD SEAT TESTS INDIA BLOC UNITY IN KERALA

ALL is not well with INDIA in Kerala, a state where the two key players of the alliance—Congress and the Left parties—are on a strong wicket. Though the two are the driving forces behind the national alliance, they are on the opposite poles of the state polity and their state leaderships have been having a tough time explaining this contradiction. The testing issue right now is the Wayanad Lok Sabha constituency—one of the strongest Congress bastions in Kerala which gave refuge to Rahul Gandhi in 2019. While Gandhi is in two minds on contesting again from Wayanad, the CPI has fielded its national executive member and prominent face Annie Raja for the seat. The candidature of Annie, who is married to party general secretary D Raja, who shares a good personal rapport with Gandhi, has created confusion within the INDIA bloc.

The Left is of the opinion that Gandhi contesting against a senior Left leader would be a "wrong political step" and asks what message it would be sending to the country. "Who is the enemy of the Congress—the RSS-BJP combine or the Left?" is a refrain heard often in the Left camp. The BJP, on the other hand, is making fun of the bloc's contradictions. On a recent state visit, Narendra Modi said the Left and the Congress were enemies in Kerala, but were the best of friends outside. "The Left wants the crown prince of Congress to stay out of Kerala," he said.

Regardless of this taunt, the state Congress leadership is adamant that Gandhi should contest from the state. They know that the Congress-led front could win 19 of the total 20 seats in 2019 mainly because of Gandhi contesting from the state. They are not ready to give up that easy chance, especially because the party is on a stickier wicket this time with the BJP increasingly eating into its turfs. The fact that the state Congress leadership is quite weak also makes them desperate for Gandhi's candidacy. The Congress's national leadership should sort out the issues within the alliance and the party at the earliest if it is to make the bloc work at the national level. Otherwise, these internal contradictions will be an eyesore for the much touted opposition unity.

QUICK TAKE

STANDARDISE HOSPITAL CHARGES

THE Supreme Court has asked the Centre to standardise hospital treatment charges across the nation. The Clinical Establishment (Central Government) Rules of 2012 asks for the rates of each hospital service to be homogenised according to the living costs of the area—through Centre-state consultation—and for the rates to be displayed clearly in the local language and English. While hearing a PIL brought by an NGO, the court warned that if the Centre failed to follow through, it would consider enforcing the rates charged by the Central Government Health Scheme. A majority of Indians know of hospitals overcharging or wrongly billing patients. This case will hopefully bring some order to the mess.

Electoral bonds upset the balance of funds among political parties. Will government agencies and statutory bodies follow through on the questions raised by the Supreme Court verdict?

THE SKEWED PLAYING FIELD AT THESE POLLS

KAPIL SIBAL
Senior lawyer and member of Rajya Sabha

SOURAV ROY

THE Supreme Court's judgement declaring the electoral bond scheme as unconstitutional is a landmark moment. Yet the decision, having been rendered after five long years, leaves our democracy beleaguered. Had the matter been adjudicated upon when challenged, the BJP would not have been able to amass the enormous wealth it has; despite the judgement, it has created a non-level playing field in our polity.

This is evident from the following facts. Between the years 2018-19 and 2022-23, the BJP has amassed almost ₹6,566 crore. In 2017-18, before the scheme was launched, the contributions by way of cheques to the BJP were relatively insignificant at ₹210 crore. Pursuant to the scheme being launched in January 2018, the contributions through electoral bonds issued in favour of the BJP rose to a massive ₹1,450 crore. It is also clear that the scheme launched by my friend, the late Arun Jaitley, was designed to benefit the BJP; it ultimately resulted in a non-level playing field in the course of elections to the Lok Sabha and successive assembly elections.

We know that free and fair elections are a basic feature of our Constitution. It has been so held by the Supreme Court of India. At the time when the electoral bond scheme was launched, it was opposed by the Election Commission of India. Its opposition was overruled. By the time the matter was argued in court, the Election Commission, which was a party to the proceedings, maintained a stoic silence.

It is clear, therefore, that the commission was willing to go along with the government in this matter, though it has a constitutional responsibility of ensuring a level playing field in the electoral process. The conduct of the Election Commission does not surprise us any more, given that it has proactively collaborated with the government on all issues that have arisen in the course of successive elections. Yet it is the commission's responsibility to ensure that the coming elections to the Lok Sabha are free and fair.

Now that the Supreme Court has declared the scheme as unconstitutional, as a matter of law, the monies transferred to the BJP, by whosoever it may be, cannot be considered as legitimate. In law, the illegality committed must not enure to the benefit of the BJP. We would be living in a fool's paradise to hope that the Election Commission will direct the BJP as well as other political parties to disgorge the benefits that they have received pursuant to the monies transferred through the scheme. We are, therefore, confronted with a situation of a continuing non-level playing field giving an unfair advantage to the political party in power. As a result, competitors are put to a disadvantage with no recourse. From a constitutional stand point, this situation is untenable.

There is yet another consequence that flows from the declaration of the scheme being unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. In its judgement, the court has rightly assumed that the corporate sector's massive contribution to one political party is probably not an act of pure generosity. Those who contributed to the party through this scheme did so perhaps in the hope of a quid pro quo. Since large parts of these contributions were through electoral bonds of the value of ₹1 crore, the donors must be persons or entities of substance hoping for benefits from such generous contributions.

In the circumstances prevailing today, and now that the Supreme Court has done away with the distinction between "proceeds of crime" and "money laundering", the Enforcement Directorate, which is an over-active and over-enthusiastic agency, is expected, as and when the names of the donors emerge, to immediately raid the individuals or entities who have made the contributions to discover the quid pro quo if any.

In any case, the Enforcement Directorate is not known to target the government or members of the political party in power who have tainted records. What is likely to happen is that in states where the opposition is in power is that, once an FIR is lodged, the Enforcement Directorate will promptly start raiding opposition leaders and companies who donated and, in that process, muddy the waters even further. Now that the BJP has an unfair advantage, having benefitted under the scheme, this is a genuine fear. The situation, therefore, gives the BJP a double advantage.

The Reserve Bank of India, too, had objected to the scheme for several reasons. One wonders what the RBI will do now, since the scheme has been declared unconstitutional.

The extent of the damage caused to our polity is not limited to just the creation of a non-level playing field. The situation is far more serious. The corporate sector, which one can presume contributes heavily to the party in power at the Centre, also by and large owns the entire mainstream media. Having received contributions, the government at the Centre naturally would, apart from in other ways, benefit the corporate sector by giving advertisements to the channels run by them. In the process, mainstream channels—the so-called godi media—would broadcast a biased narrative in favour of the BJP.

We have witnessed this in the last several years. Such an outcome would be far more serious than the others mentioned above. It is unlikely that the mainstream media will allow 'real news' to reach millions of consumers, but will do all it can to propagate tailored views to mislead the people. This, in turn, is likely to impact decision-making by citizens when they go to vote. Hence the outcome of the elections will surely be impacted in favour of the BJP.

We can only hope that the people of our country are wise enough to realise how the party in power has used a tainted legal process to enrich itself. And attempted to destroy the fundamentals of democracy, one of which is free and fair elections.

We are living in times where freedoms are throttled and fairness is not something that is cherished.

DEFENCE LEADS DRIVE TO INNOVATE & MAKE IN INDIA

SUJAN CHINOY
Director General, Manohar Parrikar Institute for Defence Studies and Analyses

INDIA'S defence ecosystem has undergone major transformations in recent years with key institutional and policy changes spurring indigenisation, domestic capital procurement and exports. Atmanirbhar Bharat and Make In India are two goals of the government that have fueled large-scale changes in the sector.

In an era of uncertainty, achieving these goals would help mitigate risks on account of disruption or manipulation of critical supply chains—precisely the kind of challenges that have constrained Ukraine's performance on the battlefield against Russia.

The Defence Acquisition Procedure 2020 prescribed 50 percent indigenous content in procurement contracts. Further, in a bid to encourage foreign original equipment manufacturers to set up maintenance and manufacturing facilities in India, a new procurement category has been introduced to enable ab initio indigenisation of spares. The defence ministry has released several Positive Indigenisation Lists for procurement, including 5,000 items currently imported by defence public sector units.

A notable step was the 'Srijan' indigenisation portal launched in August 2020 to help domestic partners play an active role in the goal of self-reliance. Over 34,000 items that were being imported have been uploaded on the portal, of which nearly one-third are already in the process of being indigenised.

Two defence industrial corridors have been established in Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh. These have attracted investments to the tune of ₹7,000 crore. In November 2023, the Swedish arms major SAAB announced the first 100 percent FDI project to manufacture the Carl Gustav M4 rocket system in India.

There has been laudable progress in building platforms, especially by the Warship Design Bureau of the Indian Navy. The INS Vikrant aircraft carrier, dedicated to the nation by the prime minister in September 2022, is the largest warship built in India's maritime history. It is spawning new technological capabilities across industries, including for SMEs and MSMEs.

Narendra Modi's sortie last November in the homegrown single-engine Tejas light combat aircraft was a huge boost for the Make in India initiative. There is equal focus on missiles, long-range artillery guns, multi-barrel rocket launchers and tanks, besides advanced radars, sensors and electronic capabilities crucial in an era of network-centric warfare.

The government recently constituted a high-powered committee to undertake a holistic review of the functioning of the Defence Research and Development Organisation. Building 'fit to purpose' domestic capabilities in defence R&D and innovation commensurate with the emerging challenges remains the guiding principle.

PTI

> The defence-industrial complex is being transformed in many ways—from greater indigenisation and innovation to global collaborations and private participation. Opening the doors of the forces and defence institutes to women has brought in a huge talent pool

The government has stipulated that a significant portion of the defence capital procurement budget should be diverted to the domestic industry. Since 2020-21, the budget for domestic procurement has risen significantly, from around 40 percent of the total capital procurement budget (₹52,000 crore) in 2020-21 to 75 percent (₹99,223 crore) in 2023-24. Moreover, since 2022-23, 25 percent of this domestic capital procurement budget has been exclusively earmarked for the private defence industry sector.

As a result of these initiatives, India's defence production crossed ₹1,00,000 crore for the first time in 2022-23 to touch ₹1,08,684 crore. DPSUs accounted for nearly 75 percent of the total output, with the private sector contributing about 20 percent and joint ventures the rest. The defence production target for 2023-24 is ₹1,35,000 crore. By 2025, it is expected to reach ₹1,75,000 crore.

An innovation ecosystem for defence manufacturing, Innovations for Defence Excellence or iDEX, was launched in April 2018 to foster innovation and technology development by engaging industries including MSMEs, start-ups, individual innovators, R&D institutes and the academia.

The iDEX Prime framework was launched in 2022 to support start-ups with grant-in-aid up to ₹10 crore to enable the development of high-end solutions. Funding under the Technology Development Fund scheme has been enhanced from ₹10 crore to ₹50 crore per project. A Dare to Dream Innovation contest was launched by the DRDO to support start-ups and innovation. About 25 percent of the defence R&D budget in 2023-24 has also been earmarked for academia and private industry.

With growing domestic production and the demonstrated use of indigenous products by the armed forces, defence exports are set to rise. India has set a defence export target of ₹35,000 crore by 2025.

Equally path-breaking is the government's consistent efforts to craft policies that provide equitable career opportunities to women, thereby tapping a large talent pool. The Nari Shakti initiative has played a major role in transforming the armed forces. Sainik Schools, which have long served as the grassroots institutions for recruitment, are no longer a male bastion. In an epic decision, the doors of the National Defence Academy, the premier tri-services training institute, have also been thrown open to women. The number of female officers in the armed forces has risen in recent years from a mere 3,000 to more than 10,000.

Greater self-reliance and resilience in the defence sector is needed to achieve the goal of Viksit Bharat by 2047. The transformation underway in the defence-industrial complex has set the stage for multiple stakeholders to rally together to promote domestic innovation, while cementing strategic partnerships around the world. The day is not far when India will become an integral part of global defence value chains.

Balancing act

Ref: Paying heed to the words of the founding fathers (Feb 28). I appreciate this astute analysis. Modi stands taller than his predecessors in taking care of the needs of the masses in every corner of the nation. In a democracy, it is very difficult to fully satisfy all stakeholders. Cross-voting concerns

I am concerned about the developments during the Rajya Sabha elections in Himachal Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh and Karnataka. Cross-voting has highlighted the fragility of political alliances. It also raises questions about the stability and integrity of democratic processes ahead of the Lok Sabha elections.

Opportunistic moves

I am disappointed to read about cross-voting during the Rajya Sabha elections. Now the Himachal government will have to fight for its survival. Who bears the cost of all these opportunistic manoeuvres? The public must question the politicians who indulge in such cross-voting without conscience.

Sports facilities

In the last Mann ki Baat speech before the LS polls, the prime minister spoke about vanishing playgrounds. The government must create more grounds to encourage sports activities. Only by providing the right facilities can we nurture the future generations to become top-class sportspersons. Sports can also be a good distraction for today's youth to keep them from straying into wrong paths.

'WHY SHOULD I SURRENDER MY RAM TO BJP'

Thiruvananthapuram MP Shashi Tharoor takes a range of questions on ideologies, secularism and erosion of Congress vote bank in the 14th edition of Delhi Dialogues

SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA

Do we even need to introduce Shashi Tharoor? He's a politician whose popularity and presence far exceeds the domain of politics. The only Congressman outside the Gandhi family who has instant recall and even fan following across states. He is second to none in articulating and defending the Nehru legacy at a time when it is under challenge. And also, brave enough to stand for inner-party democracy. So we are talking about an engaged politician, about a celebrity — not just in India, but across South Asia, Britain and beyond — and also a public intellectual. A rare breed these days.

A three-term MP from Thiruvananthapuram, a former minister, international civil servant, prolific author, a mega social media star and the patent-holder on an enviable vocabulary. Also, one of our best-read columnists.

He has also seen his share of controversies — the latest being the speculation, which pops up every now and then, on whether he'll join the lengthening queue at the party's exit door!

SHASHI THAROOR: My politics is often misunderstood because I don't parrot a certain line. People who overlook the question of why I am in politics are the ones who talk of the possibility of me going off to the BJP ecosystem. The BJP was the first party to invite me to join immediately after I quit the race for the top UN post. Since I could not find common ground with the party on certain issues, I joined the Congress as I was comfortable with the party's policies.

The fundamental question is why I'm in politics. To be very honest, I didn't need to be in politics. I had a very full career, and a very satisfying one, when I came back to India. I could have found other ways of making myself useful and participating in the national conversation. But I was very convinced that in a democracy, the best way in which you can contribute to actually shaping a better society for your own people is through politics.

That's what democracy is all about. I had always assumed that because I don't come from a political family, and had no political background in India, the door would never be open for me. So when I was, to my surprise, invited to contest the elections in 2009, I said yes almost foolishly, because I had actually never participated in an Indian election before I left India when I was 19, to go to graduate school in the States, after which I started my UN career.

So I didn't quite know what I was getting into. But it was quite an amazing experience. In the end, I can say it was the hardest thing I've ever done. I've dealt with the Yugoslav civil war and walked through minefields in Bosnia and refugee camps in Africa. But this was really, incredibly tough. Having said that, now I have spent a certain amount of time in politics, during which I have seen both its opportunities and its limitations, its perils and pitfalls, as well as the good you can do through it.

I have been an advocate of Indian civilisation, but I don't see it in the narrow terms that the BJP-RSS ecosystem sees it, I see it as much more capacious and accommodating of multiple influences over the millennia. Secondly, I was a critic of the Congress economics in the internationalisation days. But after '91, those objections withered away because I am very comfortable with the idea of an economic policy that, on the one hand, frees the private sector through liberalisation, and on the other hand, makes it a point to expand some of the revenues or most of the revenues emerging from liberalisation, and decrease tax that's come from that, on helping those who are marginalised and excluded in our society. So that, too, is an area where I'm on the same page as the post-'91 Congress. Third, I am profoundly convinced of the importance of democracy. And by democracy, I just don't mean voting for elections in five years, but a system in which people have a say in their lives between those elections, where government and elected representatives are accountable to their voters all the time.

On the question of the organisation, I did my part, tried to make a bid for the leadership of the party, in the sense of being in a position to bring about some changes that many people in the party were telling me were needed. And as it happens, you all know, I was thoroughly routed, though I have the dubious distinction of being the most successful loser in the history of Congress elections. So that is that little footnote on the pages of Congress history.

SHAHID FARIDI: You maintain that a political party is a set of two things — a collection of values, principles, ideas, convictions and ideologies — and an organisational vehicle to take those ideas and ideologies to the people. Congress has been losing elections for some years. Where do you think the problem lies?

I think what has happened with the Congress is that it was playing catch-up at some time. One example was the adoption of social media. When I came on social media in 2009, no government computer in those days was allowed to go on any of these sites, you couldn't go on Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, etc on a government computer. Every time I tried to persuade the Congress to adopt these tools, there was resistance, partly because it was thought to be undignified. Some people asked how a serious minister of the government can be on something called Twitter. Narendra Modi quickly adopted this trend, surpassing me as the most followed politician on Twitter by July 2013. The Congress caught up by the onset of the 2014 elections. By 2019, the deficiency had been addressed. In contrast to classic cadre-based parties like those in Kerala, where BJP and RSS have a strong presence, Congress relies on volunteers and party workers, lacking the extensive ground-level campaigning of its counterparts. Reviving Congress organisation is imperative, particularly in the Hindi belt.

SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA: The first thing that I noticed is the temple in your official bungalow. You have spoken about it many times. Here we have an election where it's not just a build-up towards Hindu identity or Hindutva, but it is almost a dominating narrative where it could become an election about Ram versus roti.

Those who read my book, Why I am a Hindu, know perfectly well that I am a sort of believing, active, and convinced Hindu. I understand the philosophies and they appeal to me. I grew up in a devout home. Like most Indians, I pray more inside the house than in the mountains. The temple is actually dismantled from Kerala and brought here. My understanding of Hinduism is profoundly different from Hindutva. My understanding of Hinduism is anchored in actual reading, which I fear many people don't do. I do pray at home and I'm happy to go to temples. Hinduism has no problem with pluralism. I am proud to speak of my faith, which has taught the world not just tolerance, but acceptance. Acceptance is, I believe I have the truth, you believe you have the truth; I will respect your truth, please respect my truth. This was the perfect recipe for co-existence. So why should I surrender my Ram to the BJP? I have an idea of Ram and I have been following him since I was old enough to pray. Who gave the copyright to BJP on Ram? I go to a temple to pray and I don't go there for a political event — where the pran pratishtha is done by the Prime Minister of India, who is the leader of a political party.

YESHI SELI: How would you rate this government's foreign policy?

It's a mixed bag. I will say we are doing well in some respects. Where the government has done well, I have not hesitated to praise them. The outcome of the G20 Summit was exceptionally good. I was very critical of India's stand over the Ukrainian invasion by Russia and the failures to stand by the principles we have stood by in world affairs for several decades. Despite that, I will admit that today the government has been able to do well because we have been able to maintain trade on favourable terms with Russians without getting any sanctions. But I must say India's credibility as a democracy has taken a beating. Respected global bodies have downgraded us on this front. Your profession is partly under trouble because the ranking of the World Press Freedom index has been falling for the past five years. I am deeply concerned about the way communal polarisation is encouraged.

On the question of the Congress organisation, I did my part, tried to make a bid for the leadership... And as it happens I was thoroughly routed, though I have the dubious distinction of being the most successful loser in the history of Congress elections

SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA: There is a yatra going on in Kerala now from your party. And you haven't been seen in it yet...

I inaugurated the preparatory meeting in my constituency to welcome the conclusion of the yatra in my district. I had already made commitments to a number of events where people had issued invitations, booked halls and called audiences. You can't suddenly let them down. So I'm very much associated with all this but it was always understood that this was an initiative principally by the state leadership.

DIPAK MONDAL: What are your views on the white paper on economy?

In my Budget speech, I led the Opposition on the discussion where I gave a number of figures showing an unfavourable contrast to that of the government. Secondly, in the debate that followed, my party colleagues developed most of these arguments fairly effectively. I thought the problem was the cherry-picking of figures. The worry is about what the NDA government has done to the credibility of the figures. We have had serious and humiliating arguments over Covid deaths. We've had two of our top three statisticians in the country resigning in protest against attempts to manipulate the statistics. We've had no national consumption survey. We've had none of the normal interactions with ordinary Indians that will give you accurate figures on the basis of which we can do anything from estimating poverty to calculating growth to estimating your fiscal deficit. Look at us, no one is sure about any of our figures. Half of the government schemes are contested by international economists, including those of Indian origin. So I have to say the white paper actually doesn't stand up to scrutiny.

DIKSHA SINHA: You have lived abroad for long. As an outsider, what's your view on India's political culture?

I lived abroad for about 34 years, from the age of 19 to almost 53 years. But I used to come back every year, often more than once a year. Secondly, I'd read insanely. The problem that troubles me is that there's something about India that's profoundly different. And as far as politics is concerned, I know one thing that is completely different is the attitude of the government to the Opposition. I remember when the BJP was opportunistically opposing the Indo-US nuclear deal. They had started the negotiations. And as we know from WikiLeaks, the same BJP leaders were telling the American ambassador, 'Listen, this is just politics, we are very much in favour of the deal. When we come to power, we will support it.' On an average, it used to be said that Congress ministers of parliamentary affairs spent more time in the Opposition benches to try and see how it wanted to accommodate them. It's all gone. If I can speak personally, as an MP, I was chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, which was in keeping with the tradition. After one term, I was kicked out by the government. When I was on the second committee, they didn't let me serve a full term because there were awkward questions on internet shutdowns and Pegasus surveillance. These are violations of parliamentary norms, very little conviviality, reaching out to the Opposition.

PARVEZ SULTAN: When you see yourself as part of memes on social media, how do you cope?

I take it in good spirits. Some are obviously orchestrated by a particular political party in order to give me a particular image. Just as they tried to make Rahul Gandhi Pappu, they tried to make me some sort of a Casanova. After a while, I just stopped paying attention to those.

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT: In Parliament you took up the cause of doctors and how they are beaten up. What is the government response?

I got a response from the minister and I was not happy with it. So in a subsequent opportunity in Parliament, he said, 'We thought about this issue but we can't give any special protection to doctors.' I said that is unreasonable because doctors are dealing with life and death.

PREETHA NAIR: The Congress was the number one party till 2009. The erosion appears to have started soon after. How will the party move ahead in the Lok Sabha election?

The important thing is that we have to reach out to people who are not traditionally voting for us. One of the most dismaying facts I have seen is that our vote percentage has remained about the same. I have been saying that we have to appeal to people who are not already convinced by our message. That's, I hope, sort of one of my strengths in my constituency because my constituency is no longer a natural Congress constituency. I have to appeal to voters who may not in other circumstances vote for a standard Congress candidate. The two elections before mine were won by the communists. In the last two elections, the BJP came second. So if I have to differentiate myself from them, it has to be in ways that show that I represent them, and their values.

In the Hindi belt states, we have a genuine challenge because in about 200 seats, I believe it's a straight fight between us and the BJP. It's not an INDIA bloc issue. It's essentially straight between us. And we've got to do better there. The issue that I want to keep asking voters is to think of your self-interest: How have you benefited if you voted for Mr Modi 10 years ago? Have you got a job? Has your salary gone up? Is there enough in your pocket for you to go to the bazaar and buy the same items you could afford to buy? Two years ago I asked these questions to my voters. And the answer, I'm afraid, across the board is no. Somehow, the BJP has succeeded in diverting voters, and particularly the media, away from these dal-roti questions into illusory issues of Vishwaguru and Ram Rajya, the G20 and Ram Mandir.

Eighth Navy veteran likely to return from Qatar soon

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

WHILE seven of the eight naval veterans sentenced to death and later released by Qatar arrived in India on February 12, the eighth officer — Commander Purnendu Tiwari, who was unable to return due to a travel ban imposed on him — is likely to be back by this week or next, sources indicated.

"There is a pending case against Commander Tiwari awaiting clearance, which is why there is a travel ban imposed on him. However, he was permitted to move into his own house after the release from detention was announced on February 12. There are indications that he too would be back soon. It could be as early as this week or next week," said a source privy to the developments, adding that like in the case of the other seven officers, Commander Tiwari's arrival also will not be announced in advance.

The eight ex-Navy officers from India were employed with the Dahra Global Company in Doha, when they were detained by officials of the Qatari Ministry of Interior on August 30, 2022. They were in Qatar to assist with the introduction of Italian U212 stealth submarines into the Qatari Emiri Naval Force in their personal roles.

Following their arrest, the officers were put under solitary confinement and subsequently charged with offences that were never made public. A death penalty was announced last year, which was commuted to prison sentences later. However, through what can be termed as a diplomatic coup, the Indian government managed to get them out of prison.

Seven of them returned to India on February 12, after an 18-month jail stay in the Middle-East country. However, Commander Tiwari was not allowed to return as there was a travel ban imposed on him.

BJP holds parleys before coming out with first list

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

TOP BJP leaders on Wednesday deliberated on potential candidates for the Lok Sabha elections, particularly focusing on seats identified as 'weak' for the party, ahead of its Central Election Committee meeting scheduled on Thursday.

High-ranking leaders of the BJP's central leadership, including the party's principal strategist and Home Minister Amit Shah and party national president JP Nadda, had detailed discussions on prospective candidates for several high-profile LS seats. These candidatures are expected to be announced by March 7 or possibly sooner.

According to sources, Shah and Nadda held separate meetings with party leaders from various states, including Madhya Pradesh, Haryana, Rajasthan, Uttarakhand and West Bengal. In these meetings, a number of 'weak' seats were identified for the 2024 LS polls.

A party insider hinted that the first list of candidates might bring surprises by introducing some new names for prominent LS seats. "The first list after the CEC meeting is also expected to include names of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah, Union ministers Smriti Irani, Anurag Thakur and others," suggested a BJP leader.

Weak seats identified

Union Home Minister and BJP's principal strategist Amit Shah and party chief Nadda held separate meetings with leaders from various states, including Madhya Pradesh, Haryana, Rajasthan, Uttarakhand and West Bengal. In these meetings, a number of seats that were 'weak' for the party were identified, based on the 2019 performance.

"There is a strong possibility that the first list of candidates will cover dozens of those LS seats categorised as 'weak' for the party based on the performance of the 2019 LS elections," hinted a party source. As part of a meticulously crafted strategy for the 2024 LS elections, the BJP has identified 161 LS seats across the country, mainly from South India, Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal, Bihar, Haryana, Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan, where party candidates either narrowly lost or performed poorly in 2019.

"So far, several rounds of meetings with leaders from Uttar Pradesh, Chhattisgarh and Telangana have been held regarding candidate selection for the upcoming LS polls. The party's top-ranking think tank meticulously assessed the candidates' winnability and other factors crucial for the final results," said a senior BJP leader.

Cong vs Left: United in INDIA, divided in Kerala

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

EVEN as uncertainty continues over Congress leader Rahul Gandhi contesting from the Wayanad Lok Sabha seat, the party on Wednesday said it is in alliance with the Left in different states, but they always have and will continue to oppose each other electorally in Kerala.

The Left parties, meanwhile, maintain that Congress should rethink about Gandhi fighting against its INDIA bloc ally in Kerala, where the BJP has no seats.

The Congress' assertion comes after Communist Party of India (CPI) leader Annie Raja, wife of CPI general secretary D Raja, was nominated to contest from the pivotal Wayanad constituency, a seat presently held by Gandhi. CPI is an ally of the INDIA bloc at the national level. Its leaders have been asking Gandhi not to contest from Wayanad and instead fight the BJP in the Hindi heartland states.

Speaking to this newspaper, CPI(M) leader Brinda Karat said that Congress needs to think what message it will convey by fighting against the CPI in Kerala. "The focus of all the speeches in Congress' Nyay Yatra and Bharat Jodo Yatra is the fight against the BJP, as it should be... But if you go to Kerala and fight the Left, What is the message you are giving? There is no BJP there. Congress needs to think about it," said Karat.

Speaking to the media on Wednesday, Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said, "The Left parties are very much part of the INDIA group. It has always been understood that this does not preclude group partners from contesting against each other in different states, especially Kerala."

Asked whether Gandhi would contest against her in Wayanad, Annie Raja had said that the decision of each party is their prerogative. Some Opposition leaders are also of the view that two INDIA bloc leaders fighting against each other will be bad optics for the alliance and give ammunition to the BJP to attack them.

HIMACHAL HIGH DRAMA: Day after cross-voting by 6 MLAs resulting in defeat of party nominee, Cong warns of tough action

Virbhadra's minister son does U-turn on resignation

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

HIMACHAL Pradesh PWD Minister Vikramaditya Singh on Wednesday resigned from the Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu cabinet saying "the Congress MLAs were humiliated", but later in the evening he took back his resignation in the "larger interest" of the party. Singh's resignation came a day after six Congress MLAs cross-voted in Rajya Sabha elections, resulting in an embarrassing defeat of party candidate Abhishek Manu Singhvi.

After announcing his resignation, Vikramaditya Singh, son of six-time former CM Virbhadra Singh and Himachal Congress president Pratibha Singh, called for looking into the reasons why the Congress government was on the brink when the party had a full majority. "Humiliation won't be tolerated, now the party high command has to decide where Congress is headed next in Himachal," he said.

"I have to admit that Virbhadra Singh who remained six-time CM was denied space for his statue. The man who lived for Himachal was humiliated. Is this how much they respect my father?" he asked. Singh said the party MLAs had been sidelined and there was fiscal mismanagement, and all these issues had been raised with the high command.

"This situation has arisen as the high command had failed to take note of it and take corrective action. I am a disciplined member of the party, so I know where to draw the line."

Reacting to Singh's resignation, CM Sukhu had said, "I have spoken with Vikramaditya Singh and he is my younger brother. There is no reason to accept his resignation. He has some grievances that will be solved." After withdrawing his resignation, Singh said that it is the responsibility of every individual to strengthen the party.

"In the larger interest and unity of the party, I would not like to press my resignation further. The CM refused to accept it. There is no danger to the government it was just a creation." Harish Thakur, a professor at Himachal Pradesh University said, "Since the formation of the government a sizable section of the party were unhappy over the distribution of portfolios."

Unhappy MLAs

Since the formation of the Congress government, a sizable section of the Congress, mostly MLAs from Kangra and Hamirpur, were unhappy over distribution of portfolios and overlooking of their seniority.

Cong gets into damage control to quell dissent

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AS the political crisis in Himachal Pradesh deepened on Wednesday, the Congress swung into damage control mode by dispatching a central observer team and initiating action against the six rebel MLAs who voted for the BJP in the Rajya Sabha polls. The party also warned of stern action against the dissidents, saying accountability will be fixed for cross-voting.

The three observers — former Chhattisgarh and Haryana chief ministers Bhupesh Bhagel and Bhupinder Singh Hooda, and Karnataka deputy chief minister DK Shivakumar — were directed by Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge to talk to all MLAs, including the disgruntled, and submit a comprehensive report to him soon.

In a temporary relief for the Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu-led government, the team of senior Congress leaders managed to defuse the situation by engaging with Vikramaditya Singh, who had quit in the morning.

After a meeting with party observers, Singh said he won't press for resignation till the observers' dialogue is complete. The resignation of Vikramaditya kept the party in tenterhooks.

In Delhi, AICC general secretary Jairam Ramesh told reporters, "The Congress will not hesitate to take some tough steps as the party is our priority and will not let the people's mandate be betrayed in Himachal Pradesh."

Reasons for the cross-voting will be examined and responsibility will be fixed, said Ramesh. Maintaining that all options were open, he did not rule out any decision, saying that the party interest is paramount.

Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra said that the people have the right to choose the government of their choice. "The BJP wants to crush this right of the people of Himachal Pradesh by misusing the money power, power of agencies and power of the Centre," she said.

"If a party with 25 MLAs is challenging the majority of 43 MLAs, then it clearly means that it is dependent on horse-trading. This attitude is unethical and unconstitutional. The people of Himachal and the country are watching everything," she said.

Surge in devotees at the Ram temple

The consecration of Ram Lalla in Ayodhya has increased the pressure on a dozen officers from State Bank of India (SBI) in the temple town as on weekdays, their destination is not their branch office but the outpost that has come up at the temple complex. Every morning, the bank officials gather at the outpost to account for each rupee that comes into donation boxes as an offering to the deity and work in two shifts. Since the consecration, the temple is seeing a surge in donations, coming online, through cash and cheques. In 30 days, the devotees have offered around 10 kg of gold, 25 kg of silver ornaments and ₹25 crores in cash.

Smriti Irani holds house warming event in Amethi

Union minister and BJP MP from Amethi, Smriti Irani and her husband Zubin Irani performed the rituals of griha-pravesh (house warming) at their new residence in the town. Smriti had wrested the Lok Sabha seat from Rahul Gandhi in 2019. The occasion comes months ahead of the Lok Sabha election 2024 in which Amethi may witness another high-octane fight as the Congress has not given up hopes on Amethi and has bagged it in seat-sharing deal with INDIA bloc ally SP. In 2019, Smriti had promised to have a permanent address in Amethi if she got elected.

Changing tones of Varun Gandhi

Varun Gandhi, the BJP MP from Pilibhit, a prominent seat of Terai region of Uttar Pradesh with dominant Sikh community, is humming a different tune nowadays. Gandhi, who had not been sparing a single opportunity to slam Modi government at the Centre and Yogi government in UP, tossing up even the minutest grains of condemnation of his own party's dispensations emerging as a ray of hope for the BJP bashers, is gradually changing the hues as the Lok Sabha polls are drawing closer. He is reposting the PM's posts and recently heaped praises on him for upgradation of Pilibhit Railway station in Amrit Kaal.

6 killed as car plunges into U'khand gorge

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

SIX people died on the spot after an Alto car crashed into an 800 meter deep gorge near Hansnu village on Ataal road under Chakrata area of Dehradun on Wednesday.

According to eyewitnesses, the vehicle was carrying a total of seven passengers when it was involved in a severe accident, causing it to overturn and land in a ditch. Tragically, only one occupant managed to survive and has been admitted to a nearby hospital in critical condition. The passengers were all devotees on their way to visit the Chalda Maharaj temple.

According to the information received from the sources within the State Disaster Response Force (SDRF), authorities at the Tyuni police station were alerted by a local resident about a car that had fallen into a steep ravine. Promptly responding to the distress call, both police personnel and SDRF teams swiftly initiated efforts to provide relief and conduct rescue operations.

SDRF Commandant Manikant Mishra told this daily, "Six persons in the car died on the spot, while one person was seriously injured, who was rescued and sent to Government hospital for treatment."

Central agencies free to arrest on-the-run TMC satrap Shahjahan: HC

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

THE Calcutta High Court clarified on Wednesday that central agencies such as the CBI or ED would be free to arrest Shahjahan Sheikh, the TMC strongman in Sandeshkhali.

Sheikh is the prime accused behind the unrest that has encapsulated the North 24 Parganas Island, turning the allegations of sexual assault on women in the area and forcible land grabbing by the ruling party's satraps into a national outcry.

The court's clarification came after the ED said in its submission that the state police might dilute the charges against Shahjahan, paving way for him to easily get bail.

Responding to the petition by additional solicitor general S V Raju, mentioning that the state police would collude with Shahjahan, who has been at large, the division bench of Chief Justice TS Sivagnanam and Justice Hiranmay Bhattacharya said, "The ASG apprehends that if the State police make an arrest, there is a likelihood of the case being diluted as the CBI and ED have serious reservations against the State police and there is an allegation of collusion with the absconding accused. The concerned person has not been apprehended for a substantial period of time. Therefore, it is well open to the CBI or ED also to arrest the accused."

> The ASG apprehends that if the state police make an arrest, there is a likelihood of the case being diluted as the CBI and ED have serious reservations against the cops. There is an allegation of collusion with the accused
>
> Division bench

The bench also clarified that other agencies, like the state police, can arrest Shahjahan in other cases registered against him.

The HC heard the case related to the attack on the ED officers on January 5 when they went to raid Shahjahan's house in connection with a food grain scam case in which ex-food and supplies minister Jyotipriya Mullick was arrested by the ED. On Monday, the HC brushed aside TMC's Abhishek Banerjee's claim that there was a stay on the probe, holding the judiciary responsible for inaction by the cops.

Akhilesh gets CBI summons in '19 minerals mining case

NAMITA BAJPAI/ MUKESH RANJAN @ Lucknow/ New Delhi

THE CBI has issued summons to former Uttar Pradesh chief minister and Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav in connection with a probe into the alleged illegal mining of minor minerals in Hamirpur district.

The probe agency has asked Yadav to appear before it on February 29 as a "witness" in connection with the case.

In January 2019, the CBI had registered a case against 11 persons, including UP cadre IAS officer B Chandrakala, then SP leader Ramesh Kumar Mishra and Sanjay Dixit to probe alleged illegal mining of minor minerals in Hamirpur district.

The agency was probing illegal mining in UP's Shamli, Hamirpur, Saharanpur, Deoria, Fatehpur, Siddharth Nagar and Kaushambi districts as part of its seven Preliminary Enquiries (PEs) registered in 2017 in compliance of the Allahabad High Court order. The agency, later, registered three FIRs in January 2019.

However, reacting to the CBI summons, the SP chief said that his party was at BJP's target. "As the elections draw near, notices also start pouring in. I had got a notice in 2019 as well ahead of Lok Sabha elections." Attributing it to BJP's nervousness, Akhilesh said that if the BJP had genuinely performed during the last 10 years, it should not have been so nervous. The case against the SP chef pertains to the allocation of mining lease flouting the norms of e-tender.

The Allahabad HC had ordered a CBI probe into the alleged irregularities during 2012-16 when Akhilesh was UP CM. It has been alleged that the state officials colluded with private players in alleged illegal mining of minor minerals between 2012 and 2016 by granting fresh leases, renewing existing leases and permitting obstructed period to the existing lease holders, without following the e-tendering procedure as mandated by the UP government.

As part of the collusion, the accused persons allowed excavation of minerals with a purpose of theft and to extort money from lease holders and the drives of vehicles.

Symbolic protest: Manipur commandos lay down arms against attack on officer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

MANIPUR police commandos in the Imphal valley laid down their weapons on Wednesday in a symbolic protest against the attack on the residence of an additional superintendent of police (ASP) by 200 armed miscreants on Tuesday evening.

Initially, the personnel posted in the Imphal West district staged the protest. Soon, the commandos in Imphal East, Bishnupur and Thoubal districts followed suit. In a viral video, scores of them were seen putting down weapons, one by one. "They laid down their weapons in a symbolic protest against the attack on the ASP's house," a senior police official said. The personnel were reportedly aggrieved that they were not given a free hand in combatting anti-social elements.

The miscreants, suspected to be members of Meitei radical group Arambai Tenggol, opened fire at the house of the police officer Moirangthem Amit Singh in Imphal West district and vandalised it before abducting him and another personnel.

Within hours however, both were rescued by the personnel of police and security forces from a place three km away and admitted to a local hospital. Their condition was stated to be stable. The police said there was a firing incident at the residence of the ASP. The armed miscreants, about 200 of them, came in vehicles, stormed the residence and vandalised the household properties, the police added.

"On getting information, additional security forces were rushed to the spot. In the police action, two individuals, namely Rabinash Moirangthem (24) and Kangujam Bhimsen (20), sustained injuries and were admitted to JNIMS Hospital," the police said.

Train runs over commuters in Jamtara, 2 killed

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

AT least two passengers were killed and several others injured after a train ran over them on Wednesday late in the evening near Kali-Jharia at Jamtara district in Jharkhand. Death toll may further increase as many others are said to have been seriously injured in the accident.

Police also confirmed two casualties. The rescue operations are underway. "Two bodies have been recovered so far. and a search is still on near the railway track," said Jamtara SP Animesh Naithany. It was a bit difficult for the police to conduct the search as it is dark, he added.

The SP informed that three ambulances have been roped in to rush the injured passengers to hospital.

No missing report has been reported so far. People jumped from the Ang Express after an alarm was raised about the train catching fire and were ran over by the another train.

Nitish likely to introduce bill to fight corruption, mafias operating in state

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

THE new NDA government in Bihar is likely to introduce a Bill in the ongoing budget session of the state assembly with an objective to bring a new law for dealing with corruption and mafias operating in the state.

Once the Bill becomes an Act, it will give more teeth to the agencies responsible for checking corruption in the government offices. Similarly, the Act will have provisions for firmly dealing with land, sand and liquor mafias as well also with other outlaws.

The Act could have stringent provisions, very much like the Gangster Act in Uttar Pradesh, a senior government officer stated. On Wednesday, Bihar cabinet at its meeting chaired by chief minister Nitish Kumar passed a proposal in this regard.

Corruption in government offices will also be categorised as serious offences. All those cases related to corruption and syndicate mafia would now be treated as serious offences with provisions of harsh punishment.

Powers of three anti-corruption agencies working in the state –Economic Offence Unit, Vigilance Investigation Bureau and Special Vigilance Unit are likely to be increased in the new law. In the Bill, there is also a provision for jail term from five years to seven years in corruption cases.

State cabinet has already given its approval to a proposal brought before it on Tuesday evening. Now, the state home department is expected to bring the Bill in both Houses of the state legislature and get it passed during ongoing budget session.

The budget session will come to an end on March 1. Hailing the government's move, a senior IPS officer said, "The new Act will add more teeth to the three investigating agencies in the state." Earlier, deputy chief minister and BJP state president Samrat Choudhary said that mafias operating in the state would not be spared. "The government is gearing up to deal with mafias sternly," he asserted.

The government has already intensified action against land, liquor and sand mafias in the state. Deputy chief minister and BJP leader Vijay Kumar Sinha said that government was considering strict action against illegal mafias operating in the state.

STRINGENT MEASURES

1. Once the Bill becomes an Act, it will give more teeth to the agencies responsible for checking corruption in the government office.
2. The Act will have provisions for dealing with land, sand and liquor mafias as well also with other outlaws
3. Corruption in government offices will be categorised as serious offences

Mkt cracks over 1%, investors lose ₹6 lakh cr

Weak global cues, selling pressure in Reliance Industries and bank stocks drag down benchmark indices

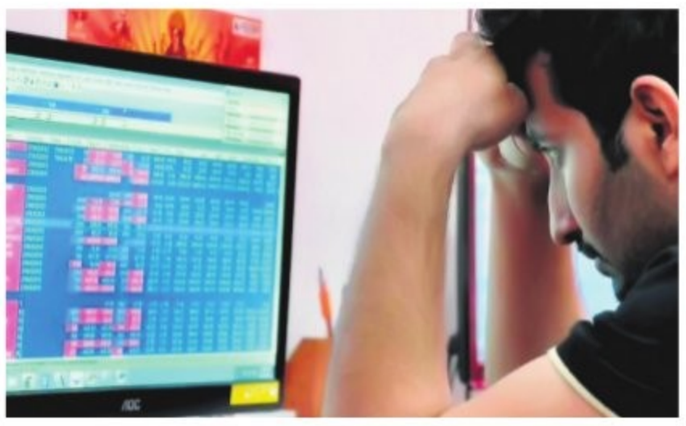
ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

Domestic equity market fell sharply on Wednesday with the benchmark indices -- BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty50 -- crashing more than 1% each due to weak global cues, and selling in Reliance Industries Ltd and bank stocks.

The selling pressure was more severe in the mid-cap and the small-cap pack and in total investors lost ₹6 lakh crore in a single session as the m-cap of all BSE listed companies came down to ₹385.97 lakh crore.

The BSE Sensex ended the Wednesday session 790.34 points or 1.08% lower at 72,304.88 while the Nifty50 slumped 247.20 points or 1.11% to shut shop at 21,951.15. All the sectoral indices closed with a cut on Wednesday with the auto, oil & gas, power and realty falling 2% each.

Index heavyweight Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL) dragged the Nifty50 pack the most as heavy weightshed nearly 2%. The other top laggards were ICICI Bank, Power Grid Corporation and Maruti Suzuki India.



Indian markets were jittery mirroring weak global markets. Global investors are awaiting the key US economic data, in anticipation of good forecast there is a fear Fed rate cut maybe delayed

Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services

"Indian markets were jittery mirroring weak global markets. Global investors are awaiting the key US economic data like personal consumption expenditure, in anticipation of good forecast there is a fear that Fed rate cut maybe delayed. Turmoil in China's property sector further impacted the Asian market trend," said Vinod Nair, Head of Research, Geojit Financial Services.

Nair added that profit booking weighed on Indian markets, fuelled by concerns about India's Q3 GDP growth potentially slowing to 6.6% from 7.6% in Q2. Rate-sensitive sectors faced pressure, contributing to broader market underperformance, led by FIIs selling. Foreign institutional investors sold (net) equities worth Rs 1,879 crore on Wednesday.

Prashanth Tapse, Senior VP (Research), Mehta Equities, said that there will be strong bouts of intra-day volatility going ahead as the wait for interest rate cuts is getting longer, and hence investors are taking selective bets in view of the already stretched valuations.

Midcap and small-cap shares' respective indices fell around 2% each. One of the key reasons for this broad selling is attributed to an advisory from mutual fund body AMFI to its member asset management companies which asked them to put in place a policy to protect investors in smallcap and midcap segments.

AMFI has asked fund houses to take proactive measures to protect investors, including but not limited to moderating inflows and portfolio rebalancing, etc.

Vi shares crash 14% after nod for ₹45K cr fundraise

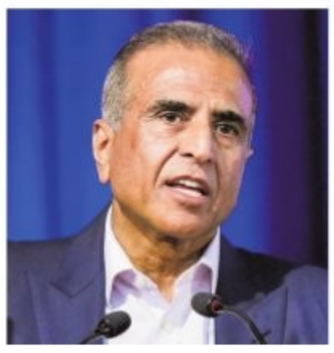
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

VODAFONE IDEA LTD (VIL) shares fell sharply on Wednesday, a day after the telecom company's board approved fundraising of up to ₹45,000 crore through equity and debt. VIL crashed 14% on Wednesday to close at ₹13.65 on the NSE. On Tuesday, the scrip had settled 4.45% lower at ₹16.10 apiece.

Despite the big fundraising plan, brokerages feel that this might not be enough to rescue the telecom company as it has a total debt of ₹2.5 lakh crore. The telco is already late on the 5G bus and has been conceding market share to Jio and Airtel. Nomura retained its 'reduce' call on the stock, with a target price of ₹6.5 apiece. CLSA maintained a 'sell' call on the Vodafone Idea share with a target of ₹5.

Sunil Mittal to be knighted by King Charles III

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi



SUNIL BHARTI MITTAL, the Chairman of Bharti Enterprises, has been awarded Honorary Knighthood by the British King in recognition of his services to the UK and India business relations.

Mittal, who is promoter of India's second-largest telecom firm Airtel, is the first Indian to be awarded the Knight Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (KBE) by King Charles III, the company said in a statement.

Apart from his contribution to Indian business, Mittal and his company has left its mark in the UK business circle as well. Airtel Africa is listed on the London Stock Exchange. Mittal in recent months led the revival of OneWeb (now known as Eutelsat), leading a consortium with the UK Government and other strategic investors to offer satellite broadband services globally.

He is a member of the India-UK CEO Forum as well as a member of the Vice Chancellor's Circle of Advisors at the University of Cambridge. He also served on the governing body of the London Business School (LBS) and as a member of the India Advisory Group at the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). Mittal said in a statement that he is deeply humbled by this gracious recognition from His Majesty, King Charles.

"UK and India have historical relations, which are now entering a new era of increased cooperation and collaboration. I remain committed to working towards strengthening the economic and bilateral trade relationships between our two great nations. I am thankful to the Government of UK, whose support and keen attention to the needs of business has been critical in making the country an attractive investment destination," he said.

The investiture ceremony will be conducted by the British High Commissioner to India at a later date, when he will formally hand over the royal insignia to Mittal.

The KBE is among the highest honours conferred by the British Sovereign to civilians. It is awarded in an honorary capacity to foreign nationals.

Previous Indian recipients of the Honorary KBE include Ratan Tata (2009), Ravi Shankar (2001) and Jamshed Irani (1997), conferred by the late Queen Elizabeth II.

BUYOUT

Accenture to acquire German firm Mindcurv

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

ACCENTURE will acquire German data analytics company Mindcurv, which specialises in composable software, digital engineering and commerce services. With this acquisition, the company further expands its commerce services for clients globally.

However, the terms of the acquisition were not disclosed. Founded in 2011, Mindcurv helps businesses design and implement innovative scalable digital experience platforms.

"With the acquisition of Mindcurv, Accenture Song continues to fortify its global offerings, blending creative thinking, technology and industry expertise," said Max Morielli, president for Europe, the Middle East and Africa, for Accenture Song.

In 2022, Accenture announced rebranding of its Accenture Interactive to Accenture Song.

The ecommerce market is expected to exceed $8 trillion worldwide by 2027. Currently, 94% of consumers make purchases through digital commerce channels. However, only 20% of companies are realizing both revenue growth and profitability. By combining Accenture Song and Mindcurv's expertise in composability skills, data, and AI capabilities, clients can accelerate their commerce operations and bridge the profitability gap, the company announced.

Headquartered in Germany, Mindcurv employs 700 people across 13 locations including the Netherlands, Spain and India. They will be joining Accenture Song's commerce practice. Mindcurv is the latest in a series of acquisitions that Accenture Song has, including Work & Co, Rabbit's Tale, ConcentricLife, Fiftyfive5 and The Stable.

Lower small, mid-cap fund inflow: AMFI to MFs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THE Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI) has issued an advisory to mutual funds to moderate inflows into small and mid-cap funds in order to protect investors.

SEBI has directed the industry body to communicate to the trustees of MFs that appropriate and proactive measures to be taken by AMCs (asset management companies) and fund managers to protect investors, including but not limited to moderating inflows, portfolio rebalancing etc. "Trustees, in consultation with the Unitholder Protection Committees of the AMCs, shall ensure that a policy is put in place to protect the interests of all investors," it said.

It added that steps should also be taken to ensure that investors are protected from the first mover advantage of redeeming investors.

"The policy shall be approved by Trustees and should be disclosed on each AMCs' website within 21 days," the AMFI said. This advisory comes at a time when small and mid-cap funds have been seeing high inflows. According to AMFI data, small-cap funds witnessed an inflow of ₹3,257 crore in January, which is a decline from ₹3,857 crore in the previous month.

Mid-cap funds saw an inflow of ₹2,061 crore in January. It was ₹1,393 crore in December 2023. Quarterly inflows into small-cap funds grew 73% in the December quarter to ₹12,052 crore as against ₹6,932 crore in March quarter of last year. The inflows into mid-cap funds rose 16% to ₹6,468 crore in third quarter as against ₹5,574 crore in the March quarter of last year.

I don't understand craze about valuation: Tata Sons' N Chandrasekaran

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

TATA SONS Chairperson N Chandrasekaran said the group has exited small business verticals and made bets on the emerging businesses, including electronics and semiconductors.

"We wanted to simplify every business. We wanted to scale everything. We got out of small business, whether in terms of business (size) or market share, across business verticals. We continue to do that. It reflected the profit and market cap."

He listed out various turnaround performances of group companies including Tata Motors and explained the group took bets on the future including battery projects and semiconductors. "We will announce the fab very soon. It will be a very very big investment."

He said the group has committed $100 billion capital expenditure in five years. The veteran leader said he doesn't understand the craze about valuation and has become a needless distraction. Speaking at an award ceremony in Chennai he said, "Valuation is clearly an outcome, you can't work for it. You only have control over input." Executing a compelling strategy with discipline, the right team and management focusing on governance and sustainable growth will deliver validations, he said.

He was speaking at a ceremony where he was conferred with 'MMA-Amalgamations Business Leadership Award 2023' in the city on Wednesday. It was presented by The Madras Management Association along with Chennai based Amalgamations Group.

Shriram Finance now part of Nifty50 index

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

SHRIRAM Finance has been included in Nifty 50 index as it has the highest six-month average free-float market capitalisation, the NSE said in a statement. The Chennai-based company will replace UPL Ltd in the index.

Shriram Finance had a total market capitalisation of ₹87,600 crore at the end of the session on Wednesday. The share price of the company fell by 1.7% on Wednesday to close at ₹2,332.

As per the latest shareholding pattern of the company, the public hold 74.57% in the company while promoter and promoter group hold 25.42% in the company. Shriram Finance, part of the Chennai-based Shriram Group, is a retail NBFC offering commercial vehicle loans, two-wheeler loans, car loans, home loans, gold loans, personal and small business loans. It had a total asset under management (AUM) of ₹2.14 lakh crore. As a result of its inclusion in the Nifty50, Shriram Finance will no longer be part of the Nifty50 Next index.

Meanwhile, the NSE, in a statement, said that UPL Ltd has been removed from Nifty 50 pursuant to its exclusion from Nifty 100 index.

SpiceJet, AerCap settle ₹250 cr dispute

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SPICEJET and Celestial Aviation, a subsidiary of AerCap, one of the largest aircraft lessor groups, have mutually settled their $29.9 million (₹250 crore) dispute through amicable negotiations, avoiding litigation, the Indian national carrier said in a statement on Wednesday.

According to a press statement issued by the Ajay Singh-promoted airline, the representatives of both parties informed a bench of NCLT last week that settlement terms had been reached and requested an adjournment. The Court graciously granted the adjournment. The matter is now scheduled to be formally withdrawn on March 1, 2024.

SpiceJet recently secured investments totaling Rs 1,060 Crore through a preferential issue, with notable investors including Aries Opportunities Fund Limited and Elara India Opportunities Fund Limited. Part of these funds will be allocated towards settling past liabilities.

In total, SpiceJet is raising ₹2,250 crore through the preferential issue of shares and warrants. The airline had said that Mumbai-based business couple Harihara Mahapatra and Preeti Mahapatra will together acquire a 19% stake in SpiceJet for ₹1,100 crore.

Speaking on the occasion, Ajay Singh, chairman and managing director of SpiceJet, said: " This settlement marks a significant step forward for both parties and underscores our commitment to finding amicable solutions to complex challenges. With this resolution, we can now focus on revamping our fleet and driving our business forward. I am grateful for the support of our stakeholders, including our investors, as we navigate through this process."

'Need re-evaluation of anti-profiteering provisions'

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE ongoing anti-profiteering provisions in the GST law could impede business operations and introduce uncertainties, according to experts. Considering that it has been six years since their inception and the transition to GST has been completed, they recommend discontinuing these provisions.

Anti-profiteering provisions were introduced at the time of GST implementation to ensure these don't lead to inflation and customers do get the benefit of reduced tax incidence. In countries like Australia, where these provisions were introduced, it was only for a short time. As per Pratik Jain, Partner, Price Waterhouse & Co LLP, after over six years of GST, market forces are expected to naturally determine prices without such strict regulations.

"GST Council should consider providing a timeline by which these provisions would cease to exist. It's important because rate rationalisation under GST is expected in next 12 to 18 months," Jain said. In its latest ruling, the Delhi high court upheld the constitutionality of anti-profiteering provisions in the GST law, requiring companies to transfer tax benefits to consumers. However, it emphasised that a uniform formula can't fit all scenarios, as each case and industry differ. The court criticised the methodology used for real estate companies, highlighting a lack of correlation between the turnover and input tax credit. In view of this, companies continue to lack clarity on the computation method and how profiteering will be assessed.

In some cases, authorities have solely focused on price reductions as the means to pass on benefits, overlooking other potential methods. Additionally, companies are burdened with maintaining detailed records of costs and pricing, adding to their compliance challenges, as per Manish Mishra, Partner, JSA Advocates and Solicitors.

Abhishek A Rastogi, founder of Rastogi Chambers, who is arguing this aspect before the Supreme Court, opines that any mechanism that ultimately results in price control over the period of time will have to pass the test of constitutional validity. "The moot point with respect to the constitutionality before the Supreme Court will remain whether the provisions with respect to Anti Profiteering are constitutional, especially in absence of any methodology to determine the quantum of profiteering," said Rastogi .

"...without a well-defined methodology or guideline in law to determine what constitutes 'commensurate reduction in prices', excessive state intervention can't be ruled out. A clear outline in law will support enterprises both with ease of compliance and ease of doing business," said Raghavan Ramabadran, executive partner, Lakshmikumaran and Sridharan.

Arjun topper again, Ashi beats WR score

Arjun Babuta won back-to-back trials and Ashi Chouksey beat the world record score en route victory at the national trials for Group A shooters in Bhopal. Arjun shot 252.5 in the men's 10m air rifle T4 finals. Local star Ashi Chouksey sizzled during the qualification round in the women's 50m rifle 3 positions (3P) T4 competition. She posted 597, a point clear of the current world record.

Duo's omission a big talking point, the Indian board says that all players should give precedence to participating in domestic cricket

Iyer, Kishan out of BCCI contract

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

THE Indian cricket board seems to be setting a precedent for neglecting domestic cricket. Though the BCCI has not said as much in its statement while announcing the central contract of cricketers, but did drop a hint or two.

Yet, the exclusion of top players like Shreyas Iyer and Ishan Kishan from annual player contracts (senior men), apparently has sent a strong message. The two in the recent past have been in in news for the wrong reasons. The BCCI would have felt the need to say as in this case — fall in line or be ready to face the action. "Please note that Shreyas Iyer and Ishan Kishan were not considered for the annual contracts in this round of recommendations," said a statement issued by the BCCI.

BCCI secretary Jay Shah might have avoided citing the reasons directly but mentioned the reasoning behind the move subtly in the last line of the press statement. "The BCCI has recommended that all athletes give precedence to participating in domestic cricket during periods when they are not representing the national team."

It all began with Kishan withdrawing ahead of the two-Test series against South Africa in December last year due to personal reasons. As it emerged later, the left-hand batter cited mental fatigue due to non-stop travelling as a reason for pulling out of the series. The Jharkhand batter then skipped Ranji Trophy matches and instead headed to Baroda to train with Pandya brothers — Hardik and Krunal.

The 25-year-old Kishan, who last played for India in a T20I match against Australia in November 2023, returned to competitive cricket only on Tuesday when he represented the Reserve Bank of India in the DY Patil T20 Cup. However, by then his fate seemed to have already been decided by the BCCI top brass.

For Iyer, who featured in the first two Tests of the ongoing five-match series against England, it all happened rather quickly. The 29-year-old Mumbai batter reportedly cited a back injury after the second Test in Visakhapatnam and was subsequently dropped from the squad. Given the BCCI diktat, Iyer was expected to turn out for his domestic side against Baroda in the Ranji Trophy quarterfinal but he missed the clash despite the National Cricket Academy declaring him fit. He though was named in the squad for Mumbai's Ranji semifinal fixture against Tamil Nadu on Tuesday. "It was bound to happen," said a source closely monitoring the developments. "A precedent has to be set before others start following suit and the same was done," added the source.

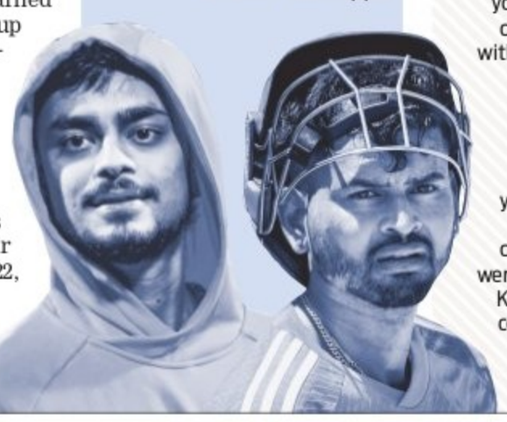
Meanwhile, skipper Rohit Sharma and star batter Virat Kohli, who missed the England series, retained their place in the top bracket (A plus). Jasprit Bumrah and Ravindra Jadeja also figured in the category. As many as six cricketers feature in the A category. While Hardik, who too is out of action since the injury he sustained during the ODI World Cup last year, R Ashwin and Mohammed Shami retained their respective places, Mohammed Siraj, KL Rahul and Shubman Gill are the new entrants in the category.

Rishabh Pant, who has not played since the car crash on December 30, 2022, and Axar Patel were moved down to Grade B from A. Full story: newindianexpress.com

Contracted players' list
(October 1, 2023-September 30, 2024)

Grade A+: Rohit Sharma, Virat Kohli, Jasprit Bumrah, Ravindra Jadeja; Grade A: R Ashwin, Mohammed Shami, Mohammed Siraj, KL Rahul, Shubman Gill and Hardik Pandya; Grade B: Suryakumar Yadav, Rishabh Pant, Kuldeep Yadav, Axar Patel and Yashasvi Jaiswal; Grade C: Rinku Singh, Tilak Verma, Ruturaj Gaekwad, Shardul Thakur, Shivam Dube, Ravi Bishnoi, Jitesh Sharma, Washington Sundar, Mukesh Kumar, Sanju Samson, Arshdeep Singh, KS Bharat, Prasidh Krishna, Avesh Khan and Rajat Patidar.

The selection committee have also recommended fast-bowling contracts for Akash Deep, Vijaykumar Vyshak, Umran Malik, Yash Dayal and Vidwath Kaverappa



FOR ISHAN KISHAN

The wicket-keeper batter had requested a break and the BCCI had given him one just before the red-ball leg of the South Africa tour in December. After the second Test at Visakhapatnam, coach Rahul Dravid had said: "... I don't want to go on labouring about the Ishan Kishan point. He had requested a break, we were happy to give him the break. Whenever he was ready, I didn't say he has to play domestic cricket, I said 'whenever he is ready, he needs to play some cricket and come back'. The choice is his..." A week or so after Dravid's comment, the BCCI secretary, Jay Shah had said: "They (the players) have been informed on phone already and I'm going to write letters as well that if your chairman of selectors, your coach and your captain are asking for it then you will have to play red-ball cricket." Shah followed that with a written communique to the centrally contracted players where the Board more or less made this policy mandatory. There were only two exceptions: you would be excused if you were representing the country at the time or if you were recovering from an injury. Kishan, who just returned to competitive cricket in a low-grade T20 match, didn't satisfy those exceptions.

Exploring the matter

The BCCI have followed through with the threat of not considering cricketers who don't turn up for domestic games when they are free from national commitments. Swaroop Swaminathan takes a look at the duo's backstory...

FOR SHREYAS IYER

The Mumbai batter began the first two Tests of the England tour on pretty strong footing. However, below-par scores in each of his last four Tests saw him sidelined when the squad was announced for the next three games. He had also complained of back problems and pain in the groin area after the second Test. But it was reported that the medical staff deemed him fit for selection (the selection committee, then, had dropped him).

The expectation, then, was that he would go on to feature for Mumbai in the Ranji Trophy (to be fair to Shreyas, he did feature for them earlier this season after coming back from the South Africa tour). He missed the quarterfinals but is expected to feature for them in the last four match-up against Tamil Nadu.

Does this mean both won't be considered for selection in the immediate future?

After the last Test against England, India don't have any fixtures till the T20 World Cup. Considering the BCCI do not have a history of revising player contracts in a short span of time, they are unlikely to feature on the list for the year. But they can still be selected for national team in any format.

Does anything else in the release stand out?

Yep, two points. One, they have asked all centrally contracted cricketers to play domestic games.

A) "The BCCI has recommended that all athletes give precedence to participating in domestic cricket during periods when they are not representing the national team".

B) "Additionally, athletes who meet the criteria of playing a minimum of 3 Tests or 8 ODIs or 10 T20Is within the specified period will automatically be included in Grade C on a pro-rata basis. For instance, Dhruv Jurel and Sarfaraz Khan, having played 2 Test matches so far, will be inducted into Grade C if they participate in the Dharamsala Test Match, i.e., the 5th Test of the ongoing series against England."

MS Dhoni: Here, there and everywhere in his hometown

GOMESH S @Ranchi

"HUME nahi milenge toh, kis ko milenge (If he doesn't meet us, who else is he going to meet)," quips a cab driver to the most obvious question he must have heard from almost every outsider who has visited Ranchi. The question, obviously, was about the son of the soil — MS Dhoni. In Ranchi, everyone you meet has their own Dhoni story — from cab drivers to auto drivers to budding cricketers to the general public. The aforementioned cab driver claims to have met the former India captain and the Chennai Super Kings skipper during some late night bike rides. Then there are the limited edition cars with the name of his biopic — MS Dhoni, the untold story — on it.

Meanwhile, Paramjit Singh — among the very few to actually know Dhoni personally for almost three decades — reveals very little. "He is the same as he was when I first knew him in 1993-94," he says with a smile as he invites us into his sports equipment shop Prime Sports. It is not just Dhoni though, Paramjit and Prime Sports remain the same as well. After all these years, people still come in wanting to hear and know about the demigod figure of Indian cricket, and Paramjit is happy to interact with them. He greets them with warmth and a chai (tea), shares stories of the past, and shows the bats and the newspaper clippings he had framed from the India A tour to Kenya in 2004.

Bats signed by MS Dhoni on display at Paramjit Singh's place | EXPRESS

While Paramjit and Prime Sports are one of the key spots to visit for any outsider, they have been in the news for a different reason. Recently, Dhoni was seen practising with a sticker of Prime Sports logo on his bat, and it, understandably, went viral on social media. Inside the shop, there are a number of signed bats from various years, but the latest one attracts all the eyeballs. The one Paramjit shows with much pride in his face. The said bat has a Prime Sports Blaster sticker on it and also has a message, "Best Wishes, Chotu Bhaiya", with his signature below.

It was the very bat that trended recently on social media, that Dhoni gave to Paramjit in the first week of February before leaving the town.

Although Dhoni was seen training with that bat then, it was not the first time he had this idea. In the late 2000s, Dhoni had suggested the idea of having the sticker of Prime Sports on his bat — after all, it was Paramjit who got Dhoni his first sponsor with BAS — but the latter had kindly declined, asking him to continue with the brands as his stardom was on the rise.

For someone who is as closely guarded as Dhoni is, Paramjit has remained one of the few closest friends till date. Ask him how, the answer comes along the lines of how they both have remained the same as they were in the 90s. Even today, if they meet, there is no talk about cricket. They still have their 'chai', chit chat and have fun as they did all those years ago.

Dhoni has grown out his hair like he had in his younger days. He is having a bat stickered with Prime Sports — Paramjit is not sure if Dhoni will play with that sticker, but that is for later. He will be in Chennai next week for the CSK pre-season camp with the Indian Premier League beginning on March 22. CSK will be taking on Royal Challengers Bangalore at Dhoni's adopted home ground — MA Chidambaram Stadium. Paramjit, who has not seen Dhoni play from the venue all these years, may come and watch him this year.

Is this an indication of a swansong season for the legendary captain? Paramjit doesn't know. Perhaps, as is often the case, only Dhoni would.

Rejuvenated Sarvani ready to go full swing

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

2023 was a mixed bag of a year for Anjali Sarvani. She was part of the India squad that made the semifinal of the T20 World Cup in South Africa. During that tournament itself, UP Warriorz picked the left-arm pacer for ₹55 lakh as her team made it to the eliminator of the inaugural season. In April, she even got her first central contract. As Sarvani and the India team were gearing up for their first appearance at the Asian Games, it all came crashing down as the Andhra bowler was ruled out of the Games due to a knee injury.

"Injuries, well they just come and don't go away easily," Sarvani said while reflecting on her time away from the game. "It was heartbreaking because I have missed out on Asian Games and the two home series against England and Australia, especially two Test matches and the domestic season." Missing out on these opportunities was hard but something kept her going while she was recovering at the National Cricket Academy in Bengaluru. "For the first two months, I was sad, thinking about not getting the opportunity to play. But then I realised during all these challenges. I had become stronger. Because of this injury, I got time to build myself and work on my fitness. Instead of thinking everything is gone. I thought, well, I have WPL and I had the perfect time to be fit. I was working at NCA with good players. I had a different experience being in rehab and staying at NCA and, it helped me to be a little patient about things," one could hear that determination in her voice.

Anjali Sarvani of UP Warriorz in action against Mumbai Indians | VINOD KUMAR T

That patience she learned the hard way came in handy when she had to wait for her chance in the ongoing WPL, where Australian international Tahlia McGrath was the preferred pace-bowling option. Once she got the chance against Mumbai Indians, even when bowling the difficult overs, she held herself firm and took a wicket in her final over. The work she was doing with bowling coach, Ashley Noffke, also paid off. "Last season when I met Ashley, I blindly used to trust his feedback. Whatever inputs Ashley gave me were 100% on point and it gave me a lot of confidence. We didn't have much time last season because we just came from South Africa. The bowling unit had 2 to 3 days with him before getting into the tournament. There was a lot of learning from him and this season. I am excited to work with him again," Sarvani said.

After a few discussions with Noffke, knowing her ability to trouble batters with swing, Sarvani worked on adding a few variations. "A lot of international cricketers tend to get dismissed by the inswingers. I think being a left-arm pacer is very rare for team India because we see a lot of it in other teams where there is one left-hand pacer. It's an opportunity for me if I do better, I have a higher chance of getting wickets."

Wednesday's result: Mumbai Indians 161/6 in 20 ovs (Hayley Matthews 55) lost to UP Warriorz 163/3 in 16.3 ovs (Kiran Navgire 57, Grace Harris 38 n.o; Issy Wong 2/30).

HI president, secretary deny Elena's claims

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

A DAY after Hockey India Chief Executive Officer Elena Norman resigned and claimed that the national federation was divided, the HI president and secretary furnished a joint statement saying there is no rift. The statement, signed by HI president Dilip Tirkey and secretary general Bhola Nath Singh, denied Norman's claims and said they are 'united'.

The statement said that the "objective as an organisation has been and continues to remain the welfare and progress of the sport of hockey and our athletes". They also said that they would rebuild the women's team that is coachless after Jannekke Schopman quit a few days ago. On Tuesday, Norman also quit and she claimed the environment in HI was not conducive. On Wednesday, the HI statement said, "Recently there have been statements by outgoing officials published in the media, claiming that there are divisions within the organisation. This is not correct. We remain united in working together, and as always in the best interest of the sport."

"In this spirit, our entire focus remains on growing our talent, ensuring all hosted events are conducted with utmost professionalism and our national teams are receiving the best support to support their performance at the global stage," said the statement.

The two said that this being an Olympic year, their focus would be to support men's hockey team.

Yasir helps Goa earn a point against Mumbai

AGENCIES @Mumbai

MUMBAI CITY FC played a 1-1 draw against FC Goa at the Mumbai Football Arena (MFA) in the Indian Super League (ISL) on Wednesday as the Islanders equaled league-leaders Odisha FC (32) in the points table. However, the Petr Kratky-coached side continues to be in the second spot in the standings as the Juggernauts (14) boast of a marginally superior goal difference than the defending League Winners Shield holders (13).

The West Coast Derby has often produced fireworks, but FC Goa had not won against Mumbai City FC in the ISL in over four years. They entered this clash chasing their first win in front of the Islanders in nine ISL fixtures between the two teams. The Islanders drew the first blood soon in the second half though, with a newly rejuvenated Vikram Pratap Singh putting the home team ahead by tapping in a cross by Bipin Singh in the 46th minute.

Mohammad Yasir ensured that the Gaurs didn't succumb to their fourth straight loss with an equaliser fifteen minutes later.

Puneri Paltan roar into PKL 10 final

HYDERABAD: The Puneri Paltan secured their spot as the first finalists of the Pro Kabaddi League Season 10 after an emphatic 37-21 victory over three-time winners Patna Pirates at the GMC Balayogi Stadium in Hyderabad on Wednesday. In what was an all-round performance from the Paltan army, the heroics were led by their able skipper Aslam Inamdar's seven raid points.

Net bowler seeking big breakthrough

GOMESH S @Ranchi

Ritesh Keshri

IN the lead-up to the Ranchi Test, as Joe Root was working on his game in the nets with spin bowling consultant Jeetan Patel, among a couple of local spinners bowling to him was 21-year-old off-spinner Ritesh Keshri. Root was constantly trying to use his feet, sweep and step against the spinners, and Keshri was one of the few to trouble him a bit.

A day after the Test got over, Keshri was at the Sonnet Cricket Club, training under Ashif Haque Ansari. It is the club where Robin Minz, the latest IPL generation from Jharkhand, honed his skills over the years. Ask Keshri about the experience of bowling to Root in the nets, his eyes lit up. "His defence against spin is really good, he can sweep and step out as well, and I got him out once or twice. I learnt a lot from bowling to Root, Washington Sundar, and bowling alongside R Ashwin," he says.

It was not the first time Keshri had bowled to Root. In fact, he was a part of the net bowling group during the ODI World Cup and has bowled to England, Sri Lanka, Indian teams at the time.

Hailing from Ranchi, the youngster was inspired by the 2007 T20 World Cup triumph. Keshri's parents, who run a vegetable shop, admitted him in the RC academy, but soon he had to stop because they were unable to afford the fee. "Mohammed Wasim sir heard about my situation and made it free for me to practice. Once everyone got to know about me, they all helped. Five years ago, Madan Lal Cricket Academy (Uttrakhand) had a selection trial where I got selected. I got free food and accommodation. I trained there and got the scholarship. And Asif had a big role to play. Once Sonnet Club was opened, I moved there to train under Chanchal Bhattacharya sir and Asif," said Keshri.

What has aided Keshri in keeping the fight alive is the help from people in the fraternity. Whether it is Dhaval Pranab, who selected him as the net bowler for IPL teams and the Test match, or Jharkhand first-class cricketers Nazim Siddiqui and Kumar Devrath, who were impressed by his talent during the Ranji Trophy camps and helped him get a sponsorship from DNine Sports (of India cricketer Deepak Chahar) and Mehmosh foundation (run by Mazz Aman), they have all played a big part in keeping the youngster's dream alive.

At 21, Keshri is dreaming to break into the state team over the next year and then take it from there.

Haaland scores five as City advance

AGENCIES @London

MANCHESTER City's Erling Haaland scored five times as the FA Cup holders ran riot in a 6-2 rout of Luton in the fifth round on Tuesday.

Aided by Kevin De Bruyne's trio of assists, Haaland completed his treble inside the first 40 minutes at Kenilworth Road. Jordan Clark struck twice to briefly reduce Luton's deficit to just 3-2. But any Luton hopes of an incredible comeback were ruthlessly erased by Haaland as the Norway striker scored twice more after the interval to send City into the quarter-finals. Mateo Kovacic netted to cap City's second six-goal haul this season after their 6-1 thrashing of Bournemouth in the Premier League in November. Haaland has 27 goals in all competitions this season, making a mockery of the critics who took a swipe at him after a misfiring display in a recent draw against Chelsea.

Nawaz Sharif officially nominates younger bro Shehbaz for PM's post

PML-N loyalist Sardar Ayaz Sadiq elected to the post of speaker of the National Assembly

ISLAMABAD/LAHORE

THE parliamentary party of the PML-N headed by three-time former Pakistan premier Nawaz Sharif on Wednesday formally nominated his younger brother Shehbaz Sharif for the post of prime minister to head a coalition government.

The parliamentary members' meeting of the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) was held in Islamabad with party supremo Nawaz Sharif, 74, in the chair.

Shehbaz, 72, had led a coalition government for 16 months till August 2023 before the caretaker government took over following the announcement of general elections.

Shehbaz Sharif | AFP

"Nawaz officially nominated his younger brother Shehbaz Sharif and party loyalist Sardar Ayaz Sadiq for the posts of prime minister and speaker of the National Assembly. The parliamentary party endorsed Shehbaz's name and also reposed its full confidence in the leadership of Nawaz," PML-N central deputy secretary Attaullah Tarar said in a statement after the meeting.

The nomination of Shehbaz Sharif as the next prime minister by the elder brother, who himself was eyeing the plum post for a record fourth time, had surprised many within and outside the party.

Nawaz Sharif said his younger brother Shehbaz is the best choice for the prime ministership, especially in Pakistan's current circumstances.

> The parliamentary party endorsed Shehbaz's name and also reposed its full confidence in the leadership of Nawaz
>
> Attaullah Tarar, PML-N central deputy secretary

He lauded Shehbaz's performance as the Prime Minister during the tenure of the Pakistan Democratic Movement after the ouster of the cricketer-turned-politician and former prime minister Imran Khan.

"The way he stopped the country from defaulting is unprecedented," Nawaz Sharif said. He expressed the hope that Pakistan would emerge out of the current crises in the next one or two years.

Outgoing National Assembly Speaker Raja Pervaiz Ashraf has called the National Assembly session on Thursday after President Dr Arif Alvi, known for his closeness to jailed former prime minister Imran Khan and his Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI), refused to do so.

The President is of the view that Parliament is not complete because the Election Com'm'ission of Pakistan (ECP) is yet to clear the air over the allocation of reserved seats to the Sunni Ittehad Council (SIC), following the PTI-SIC 'merger' for this very purpose.

The PML-N has the full backing of the military establishment to form the government both in the Centre and Punjab province. PTI

Imran Khan urges IMF to audit Feb 8 elections

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S jailed former prime minister Imran Khan on Wednesday sent a letter to the International Monetary Fund, urging it to ensure the audit of at least 30 per cent of national and provincial assembly seats before considering any further bailout talks with the cash-strapped country.

The 71-year-old Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party founder had announced last week that he would ask the global lender to avoid any assistance as the authorities rigged the electoral outcome to keep his party out of power.

The Press Trust of India has seen a letter addressed to IMF Managing Director Kristalina Georgieva by party spokesperson Raoof Hasan under the guidance of Khan.

It begins with a clarification that the party was not against the IMF facility to Pakistan. The letter alleged that the February 8 general elections ' which it said caused the public expenditure of Rs 50 billion or USD 180 million ' were 'subjected to widespread intervention and fraud in the counting of votes and compilation of results'.

"This intervention and fraud have been so brazen that the IMF's most important member countries, including the US, Britain, and countries forming part of the European Union, have called for a full and transparent investigation into the matter. We, therefore, call upon the IMF to give effect to the guidelines adopted by it prior to the grant of a finance facility that is to burden the people of Pakistan with further debt," the letter read.

Meanwhile, the IMF's review mission is likely to visit Islamabad by the end of this month or early next month, provided the government formation at the federal and provincial levels is complete, according to media reports. PTI

'New govt's first priority to fix economy'

Islamabad: Pakistan's former prime minister Nawaz Sharif on Wednesday said the priority of the upcoming government led by his party will be to "fix" the ailing economy as all the problems plaguing the cash-strapped nation were linked to the economic woes. "The government will try to fix the economy which would in turn fix everything," Sharif, the supreme leader of the Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) told the media after arriving at the Parliament House for the first time since the February 8 elections. Pakistan has avoided potential default with the help of international donors and friendly countries but its economy is still under clouds. PTI

Trump defeats Haley in Michigan, Biden wins Democratic primary

WASHINGTON

VOTERS handed decisive victories to US President Joe Biden and his predecessor Donald Trump in their respective parties' presidential primaries in Michigan on Tuesday, increasing the chances of a 2020 rematch between the two leaders in the race for the White House in 2024.

Trump easily defeated his main rival, Indian-American Nikki Haley, winning yet another early contest and additional delegates - bringing him one step closer to being able to formally secure the Republican Party's nomination in November.

Trump's win further shuts the door on former South Carolina Governor Haley's hopes of building momentum ahead of next week's Super Tuesday contests, when more than one-third of the Republican Party's delegates are at stake.

Trump reached the Michigan Republican Watch Party Tuesday night shortly after the race was called in his favour.

"I just want to thank everybody. This was a great day," he said, pointing to the state's autoworkers, saying Democrats "destroyed the autowork business," but vowed to "bring it all back into Michigan" if elected. "I can tell you this November cannot come fast enough," Trump said. "We have the worst president in history--the most incompetent and the most corrupt president, and we can't let this continue," Trump said, attacking his Democratic Party rival.

Trump lawyers say he's prepared to post $100 million bond

NEW YORK: Donald Trump's lawyers asked a New York appellate court on Wednesday to halt collection of the former president's $454 million civil fraud judgment while he appeals. Trump's lawyers said in a court filing that he is prepared to post a USD 100 million appeal bond rather than a bond covering the full amount, which would have automatically paused enforcement.

"So that day, November 5th, and January 20th is when we take over," Trump said, referring to Election Day and Inauguration Day.

Trump has won 119 delegates while Haley has just 22. To receive the Republican Party's presidential nomination, one should get the backing of 1,215 delegates.

Meanwhile, Biden, 81, coasted to another victory in the state, marking his fourth primary victory in four tries. He has won 177 delegates from the four victories. Biden, who does not have any known rivals, has to win 1,968 delegates to get the Democratic Party's nomination.

Reacting to his victory, Biden said, 'I want to thank every Michigander who made their voice heard today. Exercising the right to vote and participating in our democracy is what makes America great." PTI

OVER 2,000 FALL VICTIM TO ONLINE SCAMS

The Khon Kaen police hung up giant signs warning people against online scammers and advising how to avoid them on the outside wall of the police station on Wednesday. The police said more than 2,000 victims have filed complaints against cyber fraudsters with them since the beginning of this year. Signs up to 3 metres tall carried warnings and advice such as "Do not believe", "Do not click on links" and "Victims of online fraud, phone 1441," were put up outside the police station. Police urged people to take extra caution, to not be rushed into transfering money to someone they do not know.

4 POWER ABUSE CHARGES AGAINST EX-PM

The Court of Appeal on Wednesday approved the prosecution's appeal to reinstate four abuse of power charges made against former prime minister Tan Sri Muhyiddin Yassin in connection with the Jana Wibawa programme. Justice Datuk Hadhariah Syed Ismail ruled so when granting the appeal to set aside a HC's decision to acquit and release the 76-year-old in August last year.

CONTROVERSY OVER PRABOWO'S HONORARY RANK

Indonesian President Joko Widodo (Jokowi) dismissed the rumours that the honorary rank bestowed on Defense Minister Prabowo Subianto was part of a political transaction amid the 2024 elections. "Those assumptions are wrong. If it was a political transaction, it would be given before the election. However, this was given after the election," he remarked after attending the TNI-Polri Leaders Meeting at the TNI Headquarters in Jakarta on Wednesday. Jokowi awarded Prabowo with an honorary four-star general rank for his services and contributions to national development, especially in the fields of defense and security.

Gaza death toll nears 30,000 as aid groups warn of 'imminent' famine

GAZA STRIP

THE Gaza war's reported Palestinian death toll neared 30,000 Wednesday as fighting raged in the Hamas-run territory despite mediators insisting a truce with Israel could be just days away.

Another 91 people were killed in overnight Israeli bombardment, the health ministry said. Mediators from Eygpt, Qatar and the United States have been trying to find a path to a ceasefire amid the bitter fighting, with negotiators seeking a six-week pause in the nearly five-month war.

Displaced Palestinians gather for food in Rafah, on the southern Gaza Strip | AFP

'Almost inevitable' starvation

The war was triggered by an unprecedented Hamas attack on southern Israel that resulted in the deaths of around 1,160 people, mostly civilians, according to an AFP tally of official figures.

Militants also took about 250 hostages, 130 of whom remain in Gaza, including 31 presumed dead, according to Israel.

Since the war began, hundreds of thousands of Gazans have been displaced, with nearly 1.5 million people now packed into the far-southern city of Rafah, where Israel has warned it plans to launch a ground offensive.

Those who remain in northern Gaza have been facing an increasingly desperate situation, aid groups have warned.

"If nothing changes, a famine is imminent in northern Gaza," the World Food Programme's deputy executive director Carl Skau told the UN Security Council Tuesday.His colleague from the UN humanitarian office OCHA, Ramesh Rajasingham, warned of "almost inevitable" widespread starvation.

The WFP said no humanitarian group had been able to deliver aid to the north for more than a month, with aid blocked from entering by Israeli forces. "I have not eaten for two days," said Mahmud Khodr, a resident of Jabalia refugee camp in the north, where children roamed with empty pots. "There is nothing to eat or drink." AFP

Kin of hostages held in Gaza launch march

Tel Aviv: Families of hostages held in Gaza launched a four-day march from southern Israel to Jerusalem on Wednesday to demand their loved ones be set free. The march comes as negotiations are underway in Qatar to bring about a deal between Hamas and Israel that would lead to a cease-fire in exchange for the release of hostages. Hostages freed in a late-November deal, some of whom still have relatives held in Gaza, joined the march. to will end near the official residence of PM Benjamin Netanyahu later this week.

The health ministry in Hamas-run Gaza said on Wednesday that at least 76 people have been killed in the Palestinian territory in the past 24 hours, while 70,325 people have been wounded since the conflict began on October 7.

UK journalists demand open access to Gaza

Over 50 UK-based broadcast journalists have sent an open letter to the Israeli and Egyptian embassies calling for "free and unfettered access" to Gaza for foreign media, British media reported on Wednesday. The letter was from 55 correspondents and presenters including Alex Crawford from Sky News, Jeremy Bowen from the BBC and Christiane Amanpour from CNN. AFP

Prince Harry to appeal after losing security case in UK

LONDON

PRINCE Harry will seek to appeal a UK court ruling Wednesday that the government acted lawfully when it downgraded the level of his personal security when he visits Britain.

The youngest son of King Charles III launched the legal action after the British government told him in February 2020 that he would no longer be given the "same degree" of publicly-funded protection when in the UK.Harry, the Duke of Sussex, relocated to North America in 2020 with his wife Meghan, eventually settling in California in the United States, and is no longer classified as a working royal.

High Court judge Peter Lane said in a 52-page judgement that the "bespoke process" devised for him by a committee which is under the remit of the interior ministry "was, and is, legally sound". But a legal spokesman for Harry said he will try to turn to the Court of Appeal "to obtain justice". The court – England's second highest -- must decide whether there are grounds to hear the case. "The duke is not asking for preferential treatment, but for a fair and lawful application of... (the) rules, ensuring that he receives the same consideration as others," Harry's spokesman added.

The interior ministry said it was "pleased" with the judgment and was "carefully considering" its next steps. "The UK government's protective security system is rigorous and proportionate," a ministry spokesperson added. AFP

Alexei Navalny's funeral to be held tomorrow: Spokesperson

MOSCOW

THE funeral of Russian opposition leader Alexei Navalny, who died earlier this month in a remote Arctic penal colony, will take place on Friday in Moscow after several locations declined to host the service, his spokesperson said. His funeral will be held at a church in Moscow's southeast Maryino district on Friday afternoon, Kira Yarmysh said on Wednesday. The burial is to be at a nearby cemetery.

Shortly after the announcement of the funeral plans, Navalny's widow, Yulia Navalnaya, addressed European lawmakers in Strasbourg. Speaking at the European Parliament, she confirmed that her husband would be buried on Friday and expressed fears that the police might interfere. "I'm not sure yet whether it will be peaceful or whether police will arrest those who have come to say goodbye to my husband," she said.

At some points appearing tearful amid applause from lawmakers but largely resolute, Navalnaya said her husband's death "showed everyone that Putin is capable of anything, and that you cannot negotiate with him."

S KOREA'S FERTILITY RATE FALLS TO 0.72 %, AN ALL-TIME LOW

SEOUL

SOUTH Korea's birth rate fell to a record low last year, the government said on Wednesday, despite having poured billions of dollars into efforts to encourage women to have more children and maintain population stability. The country has one of the world's longest life expectancies and lowest birth rates, a combination that presents a looming demographic challenge.

South Korea's fertility rate -- the number of children a woman is expected to have in her lifetime -- dropped to 0.72 in 2023, down nearly eight percent from 2022, according to preliminary data from Statistics Korea. This is far below the 2.1 children needed to maintain the current population of 51 million, which at these rates will nearly halve by the year 2100, experts estimate.

The government has spent vast amounts on trying to encourage more babies, offering cash subsidies, babysitting services and support for infertility treatment. But the birth rate has continued its chronic decline.

Singapore also faces shrinking population

Singapore: Singapore, facing a dwindling population and a manpower shortage, has seen its resident total fertility rate (TFR) drop to an estimated 0.97% in 2023, the first time it has dropped below 1% in the country's history. The TFR, which refers to the average number of babies each woman would have during her reproductive years, fell from 1.04 in 2022 and 1.12 in 2021, Minister in the Prime Minister's Office Indranee Rajah told Parliament on Wednesday. The birth rate remains below the replacement rate of 2.1 ' the level at which a population replaces itself. The latest figure places Singapore among countries with the lowest birth rates globally, with South Korea topping the list at 0.72 in 2023, The Straits Times newspaper reported on Wednesday. European countries like Italy and Spain continue to see a record-low number of births year-on-year, while neighbouring Malaysia and Thailand also saw their fertility rates fall in 2022. PTI

"The number of newborns, birth rates, and crude birth rates (newborns per 1,000 people) are all at the lowest point since 1970" when data collection began, said Lim Young-il, head of the Population Census Division at Statistics Korea. Lim told reporters that South Korea's 0.72 birth rate is the lowest among OECD nations, while the average age to give birth is 33.6.

Career 'sacrifice'

Experts say multiple factors, from high child-rearing costs to a notoriously competitive society that makes well-paid jobs difficult to secure, are behind low birth rates.

The double burden for working mothers of carrying out the brunt of household chores and childcare while also maintaining their careers is another key factor.

A 37-year-old office worker, who asked to be identified by her surname Jeon. has been married for four years. She said the country's rigid corporate culture was a primary reason for her decision.

"Raising a child is not possible without sacrificing the career of one parent in this environment," she said. AFP

Nuclear deal

In 2012, North Korea agreed to suspend uranium enrichment and nuclear and long-range missile tests in return for US food aid

FOOD FLOW RESTARTS

The US decision to resume food aid was a gesture toward Pyongyang, which sought global help to cope with chronic food shortages. It halted food aid to North Korea in 2009

A BIG FEAT

The agreement is the first major international political deal made by the nation's new leader, Kim Jong Un who came to power in December 2011

HUMANITARIAN ISSUE

US and North Korean representatives met later to work out the logistics of delivering and monitoring the food

A LEAP OF LOVE

In a charming twist to wedding season traditions, couples in the city are eagerly embracing the rarity of Leap Year dates for their nuptials

Priyanka Hemchand and Sanandan Kulkarni | SUMAN RAO

MONIKA MONALISA

HAVING been courting each other for some time, Priyanka Hemchand and Sanandan Kulkarni decided to get married in either February or March of this year. When they consulted an astrologer to select an auspicious date based on their horoscopes, they were presented with two options: February 14 and 29. Hemchand, a content creator, immediately chose the latter. "Ours is a love marriage. We've seen many Valentine's Day weddings, but a leap-year wedding is extremely rare. I wouldn't miss the opportunity to have such a special date for this major milestone in my life," she explains.

A similar situation occurred with Niharika Gowda and Vishal D, who are tying the knot today. "I haven't heard of any weddings on February 29, so it's not just unique for us but also for others close to us. It's a very rare date, and it ensures people remember our wedding anniversary," Gowda says with a smile.

She's comfortable with celebrating their anniversary only once every four years. "It's a bit of a wait, but since it's a rare date, we might mark it by doing something special, like travelling," says Gowda, who has spent the last 6-7 months planning the wedding.

Meanwhile, some couples who weren't as 'fortunate' to secure February 29 as per their horoscopes have still managed to incorporate this special date into their pre-wedding festivities. One such couple is Rajagopal Vijaykumar and Sushmitha Siddaxhari. "Our auspicious date is March 1, but I wanted to include the special date of February 29 on our wedding invitation. So, all our pre-wedding preparations start from that date," explains Vijaykumar. He adds that one of the biggest challenges was securing a venue, but after some searching, they were lucky to book Tamara Wedding Venue.

Rajagopal Vijaykumar and Sushmitha Siddaxhari

Vijaya Shetty-Salian, managing director of Le Roma Gardenia, notes that special dates always attract their clients. "February usually brings inquiries for Valentine's Day, but this year, February 29 was also in demand. Even if couples don't get their ceremony on February 29, they like to book the venue for some part of their wedding celebration," says Shetty-Salian.

Calling all B'lureans for a cinematic treat celebrating 90 years of Kannada cinema and global contemporary cinema, the 15th edition of BIFFEs promises a distinct lineup

Kaleidoscope of Cinema

POOJA DAS

CINEMA lovers in the city get to embark on a seven-day cinematic extravaganza with the 15th edition of the Bengaluru International Film Festival till March 7. The festival, showcasing over 180 films from around the world, will be inaugurated today by chief minister Siddaramaiah along with eminent guests including filmmaker Jabbar Patel, actor Azmeri Bandhon, and more. "There are two themes this year. One is contemporary world cinema with the theme 'World in Bengaluru'. March 3 also marks 90 years of Kannada cinema. The first movie, Sati Sulochana, was released on March 3, 1934, so we will have a special screening of old and contemporary Kannada films," says N Vidyashankar, artistic director of BIFFEs.

(Clockwise from top) A still from Daredevil Musthafa; A still from Thithi; A still from The Zone of Interest

The festival will honour this milestone with screenings of classic and new-generation Kannada cinema including films like Chomana Dudi, Daredevil Musthafa, Thithi, and more. "We are going to show some of the significant films that have been made in the last 90 years," says Vidyashankar. He further highlights the documentary section which has been reinstated after a short hiatus, "Last couple of years, we had stopped it. This year we have restored the section, where we will be showcasing films based on themes like gender sensitivity, environmental issues, and basic human resilience. We have a special section on women directors also."

Filmmakers Maya Chandra and Vinod Raja have curated the documentary section consisting of 15 films. "Everybody is unable to make feature films so documentaries have become a big medium of expression, especially for young filmmakers, coming out of schools and colleges today," shares Chandra.

BIFFEs will also pay homage to the eminent Bengali filmmaker Mrinal Sen and Iranian filmmaker Abbas Kiarostami, through retrospectives. Along with that, a special segment called Unsung Incredible India will be showcasing films in lesser-known languages including Tulu, Santhali, and more. "There is a cultural identity to these linguistic groups and recognizing these films is important. We started it for dialects of Karnataka like Konkani and but we have expanded it north-eastern langauges like Santhali," shares Vidyashankar.

Being part of curating the festival since its inception. Vidyashakar notes that the film festivals' 'core value is curation', adding, "Film Festivals initially started as a forum for accessing films which are not available in the market. Now, people say that OTT has made them accessible but still these festivals are essential because while many people can access films, they do not know what to watch."

Regular screenings will be held from March 1, across 11 screens at PVR Cinemas, Orion Mall, Rajajinagar, Kalavidara Sangha Auditorium, Chamarajpet, and Suchitra Film Society, Banashankari.

Science in the spotlight

On Wednesday National Science Day was observed and Raman Research Institute marked the occasion with interactive experiments and exhibitions

PICS: SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

DESE GOWDA

EXACTLY 96 years ago yesterday, the world was made aware of a discovery by an Indian physicist that forever changed the way humans understood the way light interacts with matter. The Raman effect, as it was dubbed later, was a scientific breakthrough with reverberations felt far beyond the world of physics, with applications in chemistry, medicine, and mineral extraction. For his contributions, Sir CV Raman was awarded the coveted Nobel Prize in Physics in 1930, becoming the second Indian till then to receive the honour and the first Asian to do so in a scientific field.

Commemorating the occasion, Feb 28 is celebrated as the National Science Day, to spread awareness on the importance of science in daily life. Bengaluru's Raman Research Institute (RRI), conceived by Raman and established in 1948, marked the occasion with a science extravaganza. "The Raman Research Institute is the legacy of a great man. The National Science Day is held as an open day so that the public can see the frontier research in contemporary physics being done at the Institute. For instance, we recently launched a satellite called Expose into space which was designed, conceived, and built entirely at the Institute. The idea is to give the public, especially students, a glimpse into the beauty of science so that they will be inspired by this and pursue fundamental sciences as they grow up," says Dr V G Subramanian, assistant to the director, Raman Research Institute.

The open day hosted varied activities designed to only to inspire scientific temperament, but also educate visitors about Raman's career and the Institute's history. Pavilions erected across various locations on campus, including the CV Raman Lawn, hosted interactive sessions, various science experiments, as well DIY experiments to engage students. "The Raman lawn has special significance because Raman was cremated there. A tree was planted as a living memorial to him," shares Subramanian. Visitors also got to view sunspots through a telescope, and witness radio astronomy experiments.

Raman's discovery was pivotal in Indian history, demonstrating to the world its capabilities on the global scientific stage in a time still overshadowed by colonialism. RRI's open day celebrations also captured that history through photographs and articles from that period. "The Raman Museum, and archives house Raman's personal collection and many other rare books. For instance, clippings of important events, like the first newspaper announcement of Raman's discovery, published on Feb 29, 1928," Subramanian adds.

Samarthanam Trust Launches SIMPA

A Groundbreaking Institute for Music & Performing Arts

Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled recently announced the launch of Samarthanam Institute of Music and Performing Arts (SIMPA), a pioneering venture aimed at fostering excellence in the field of performing arts. This milestone marks a significant leap in Samarthanam's journey, accentuating its unwavering dedication to promoting inclusivity and nurturing talent within the disabled community.

At the helm of this endeavour is Dr. Mahantesh G Kivadasannavar, Founder and Managing Trustee of Samarthanam Trust, who underscores the invaluable role of SIMPA in enriching the cultural landscape. "We believe in the transformative power of music and performing arts to empower individuals and transcend barriers. SIMPA represents our commitment to excellence and inclusivity," remarked Dr. Mahantesh.

SIMPA's affiliation with Karnataka State Dr. Gangubai Hangal Music and Performing Arts University further solidifies its standing within the academic realm.

With the commencement of admissions, SIMPA offers a diverse array of certificate, diploma, and degree courses in music and dance. From Carnatic and Hindustani vocal music to Western instruments like keyboard and guitar, SIMPA provides comprehensive training to aspiring artists. Additionally, Bharatanatyam enthusiasts can delve into the intricacies of classical dance through SIMPA's specialised courses.

Interested candidates with a passion for music and performing arts are invited to apply. Medium of instruction is available in Kannada and English, ensuring accessibility for all. SIMPA extends free admissions, hostel facilities, and accommodations to eligible persons with disabilities, reaffirming its commitment to inclusivity and equal opportunities.

Faculty recruitment is underway, with preference given to candidates holding BPA or MPA qualifications from recognised universities. Full-time and part-time positions are available to passionate individuals eager to contribute to SIMPA's mission.

SUNADHA

Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled already has Sunadha, a vibrant musical ensemble which boasts a dedicated cadre of singers, musicians, and dancers who have showcased their talent on both national and international stages.

FIT BIT

SAHAJA ANANTASANA
(EASY SIDE RECLINING LEG LIFT POSE)

This is a beginner level pose that is performed in the side-lying position. It is an excellent warm-up to bring mobility in the body. It can be performed by teens, pregnant women, seniors and athletes alike, making it a very inclusive pose.

STEPS

- Start in Supine Extended Mountain Pose, stretching your body from head to toe. Turn and lie down on your left side in Sahaja Anantasana Variation (Easy Side Reclining Pose Variation) with your left arm stretched out, and your right palm placed on the floor.
- Place the shoulder on the ground, folding your left arm at the elbow, with your left palm under your head, supporting it.
- Stay here and observe your breath. Prepare yourself to turn inwards as you begin the practice of Vishnu Asana Variation.
- Exhale, lift your right leg to a 30-degree angle. Hold it up to 10 breaths or as per your comfort.
- To feel the full impact, close your eyes and feel the crunch in the side of your abdomen and the stretch in your leg.
- To release, very slowly bring your right leg back on top of your left leg. Perform up to 10 rounds.
- Release and come back to Sahaja Anantasana Variation. Perform on the other side and come back to the original position, relax and rest.

BENEFITS

- Stretches the legs and hamstrings.
- Strengthen the transverse abdominis and the pelvic floor muscles.
- Reduces the stiffness that often accompanies sedentary lifestyles.
- Reduces muscular tension in the lower back region and hips.
- Activates and awakens energy.
- Balances the Muladhara (root) Chakra.
- Massages and stimulates various organs located in the abdominal region.
- Prevents issues such as hernia.
- Targets visceral fat that develops around different organs.
- Helps in regulating the emotions.

City-based entrepreneur Nithin Kamath recently brought attention to a concerning trend by sharing his personal experience with a mild stroke. This incident underscores the need for increased awareness to address the growing phenomenon

MYSTERY BEHIND YOUNG STROKES

DR AMIT KULKARNI

RECENTLY, Bengaluru-based businessman Nithin Kamath shared his startling experience of suffering a mild stroke, despite being in his 40s. This sheds light on a concerning trend: strokes aren't just for the elderly. Even individuals in their 40s and 50s, who are fit and healthy, can fall victim to this sudden and often life-altering condition. It is of paramount importance to understand what exactly constitutes medically a 'young stroke', its underlying causes, and crucial precautions to safeguard our health.

Young strokes, defined as strokes in people below the age group of 45 years, are on the rise. Ischemic strokes occur when the blood supply to a part of the brain is interrupted or reduced while hemorrhagic stroke refers to sudden rupture of blood vessels leading to leak of blood in the brain leading to damage or death of brain cells. Young stroke symptoms are the same as their older counterparts, such as sudden weakness or incoordination, numbness, difficulty speaking, difficulty balancing, or even sudden severe headaches. It is important to be aware of these symptoms so that the person reaches a stroke-ready hospital on time and urgent and life-saving treatment can be initiated.

The Underlying Cause

The causes of young strokes can vary, but they often originate from a combination of sedentary lifestyle factors and underlying health conditions. High blood pressure, diabetes, and high cholesterol levels are the silent factors. Long working hours, lack of sleep, smoking, heavy alcohol consumption, obesity, and obstructive sleep apnea (snoring disease) are all crucial risk factors. Certain heart conditions like low pumping capacity and irregular heart rhythm need to be evaluated and identified. Additionally, certain genetic or hereditary conditions, such as blood-clotting disorders or abnormal blood vessel formations, may predispose individuals to strokes at a younger age.

Precautions for Prevention

Importance of Balanced Diet and Regular Exercise: While the prospect of experiencing a stroke at a relatively young age may seem daunting, there are steps we can take to mitigate this risk and prioritise our well-being. Firstly, adopting a healthy lifestyle is paramount. This includes maintaining a balanced diet rich in fruits, vegetables, whole grains, and lean proteins while limiting intake of saturated fats, salt, and processed foods. Brisk exercise for at least 30- 40 minutes helps to improve the lifestyle, as it helps manage weight, reduce blood pressure, and improve overall cardiovascular health.

Reducing the Risk Factors by Regular Monitoring: Furthermore, it's essential to monitor and manage any underlying health conditions diligently. This involves attending regular check-ups with healthcare providers, adhering to prescribed medications, and making necessary lifestyle modifications. This is for adequate control of blood pressure, blood sugar, and cholesterol levels. For those who smoke, quitting is non-negotiable, as smoking significantly increases the risk of strokes and other cardiovascular diseases.

Family History: Keep Yourself Updated- Moreover, staying informed about family medical history and discussing any concerns with healthcare professionals can aid in the early detection and prevention of potential risk factors. Additionally, being mindful of stress levels and implementing stress-reduction techniques, such as mindfulness, meditation for at least 20 minutes, or hobbies, can contribute to overall well-being.

The occurrence of strokes in individuals in their 30s and 40s serves as a poignant reminder that age alone is not a safeguard against this debilitating condition. By understanding the risk factors, prioritising our health, and taking proactive measures to mitigate these risks, we can empower ourselves to lead fulfilling and healthy lives.

Boost confidence with cosmetic gynaecology

DR SIMI HARIS

COSMETIC gynaecology is a highly innovative concept garnering significant attention among women today. While traditional gynaecology addresses uterine diseases and childbirth-related issues, cosmetic gynaecology focuses on enhancing the aesthetics and healthy functioning of women's intimate areas, thereby boosting their confidence.

Adolescent girls dealing with polycystic ovarian disease (PCOD) and hormone-related concerns may experience variations in their private parts such as differences in size, colour, or excessive hair growth. These differences can lead to mental distress, impacting their academic performance and social interactions.

Fortunately, cosmetic gynaecology offers simple and painless solutions to address these concerns, ultimately enhancing their confidence levels.

Furthermore, cosmetic gynaecology addresses physical changes during pregnancy and postpartum periods, including issues like stretch marks. Laser treatments performed as outpatient procedures can effectively reduce these problems, restoring shape and confidence.

Vaginal laxity, a common issue among women, often goes unaddressed due to fear or hesitation. However, cosmetic gynaecology offers painless laser treatments to resolve such concerns, improving intimate health, physical relationships, and emotional intimacy within couples.

One of the key advantages of cosmetic gynaecology is its ability to identify and address sensitive areas through outpatient procedures, including local injections. Despite the prevalence of these issues, many women hesitate to seek help due to societal stigmas or lack of understanding. Cosmetic gynaecology provides a supportive environment for women to address these concerns effectively.

Stress incontinence, another common problem among women, can now be treated painlessly through cosmetic gynaecology using laser techniques, offering relief during activities such as sneezing, coughing, or laughing excessively.

By addressing women's concerns through cosmetic gynaecology, it not only enhances their mental well-being and self-confidence but also contributes to a more enjoyable family and social life.

I SUBMITTED MYSELF AS AN EMPTY CANVAS FOR KREEM: SAMYUKTHA HEGDE

The actor shares her experiences of meeting writer Agni Sreedhar and collaborating with director Abhishek Basant, highlighting that her upcoming film will undoubtedly influence her choices ahead

Samyuktha Hegde

A still from the film

A SHARADHAA

SAMYUKTHA Hegde's journey in the film industry began with a bang, courtesy of her breakout role in Rishab Shetty's Kirik Party starring alongside Rakshit Shetty. However, her ambitions didn't stop there. Venturing into Telugu, with the remake of Kirik Party, and Tamil films (Comali, Puppy, Theal, and Manmadha Leelai) she expanded her horizons even further. Despite her growing success, Samyuktha remained relatively low-key until the buzz surrounding her upcoming film Kreem put her into the spotlight once again.

Reflecting on her journey, Samyuktha shares, "When I started my career, I was juggling opportunities in different languages while also reassessing my priorities. Transitioning from a life where money was merely a concept to diving headfirst into cinema, my experiences have moulded my perspective in unique ways." Recalling her modest beginnings, she adds, "I had to hustle my way up. From those early days to landing roles like in Kirik Party, the path has been anything but ordinary."

Samyuktha's early aspirations were diverse. "When I began my career in films, at that time, my priorities were different," she explains. "I wanted to explore the world, basically I wanted to travel and immerse myself in various forms of dance, which I managed to do and found fulfillment in. I am now back to focus on my cinema career, and it begins with Kreem," she says.

While Samyuktha admits that her debut Kirik Party provided a crucial platform, she opines that Kreem, a project that will stand out as a significant milestone in her career. For the actor, Kreem represents a blend of excitement and gratitude similar to her first venture into cinema. "The anticipation for this film is exhilarating," she shares. "I'm thrilled to have been entrusted with the role of Aksha, and I can't wait for audiences to witness our collective efforts on screen," she calls action an uncharted territory, "I'm proud of the work we've put in. This film also made me think of the projects I should take up in the future, and take up roles that leave a lasting impact, whether it's a brief appearance or a substantial character arc. But no arm candy roles for me – I aim for substance," she says.

Interestingly, Samyuktha's involvement in Kreem wasn't immediate. "I was intrigued by the prospect of action," she reveals. "As a woman in cinema, opportunities for action-packed roles are scarce. But with my background in martial arts, I was confident I could rise to the challenge."

The allure of the script, coupled with the endorsement from noted writer Agni Sreedhar, sealed the deal for Samyuktha. "Agni Sreedhar's narrative was gripping," she says, "His faith in me to carry the film as the lead was empowering. When I met him and director Abhishek Basanth, I was like a blank canvas, ready to be painted with their vision."

For Samyuktha, Kreem represents a blend of excitement and gratitude similar to her first venture into cinema. "The anticipation for this film is exhilarating," she shares.

Samyuktha delves into the behind-the-scenes journey of Kreem, shedding light on her experiences that unfolded during filming. As she recalls her first encounter with Agni Sreedhar's narrative, she admits to questioning the plausibility of such tales.

Meanwhile, director Abhishek Banath's diligent research left a lasting impression on her. "Despite Kreem being Abhishek's directorial debut, his proactive approach and dedication to the project were commendable," she says.

Regarding the film's theme of human sacrifice, Samyuktha shares her experiences of being part of the process. "The day after we shot a scene delving into human sacrifice for Kreem, I broke my leg," she discloses. "There was energy on the sets with a sense of divinity. Reciting mantras like Kreem felt empowering, almost invincible. However, my injury made me realise the limitations of such a powerful chant. It was a lesson shaping my newfound belief in mantras and spirituality."

Reflecting on the significance of her role, Samyuktha expresses a desire for more narratives like Kreem to be told. Drawing inspiration from films like Kill Bill, she advocates for strong female characters in cinema. "Girls can fight, and we can tell stories just as powerfully," she asserts, as she is hopeful for a positive reception from audiences.

When asked about her future projects, Samyuktha reveals her selective yet open-minded approach to roles. "As I mentioned earlier, as an actor, I prioritise compelling scripts," she explains. "Now that I've explored different avenues like travel and dance, I'm eager to refocus on films and the kinds of characters I portray. Kreem will undoubtedly influence my upcoming choices," she adds.

Excitingly, Samyuktha tells us that she has just bagged two new projects, both offered to her following the release of the Kreem trailer. "The makers, one in Tamil and one in Kannada have given me opportunities for action roles," she reveals, adding, "Details of these projects will be out soon."

Hide & Seek locks release date

The suspense thriller, marking Puneeth Nagaraj's directorial debut is set for a March 15 release

CE FEATURES

PUNEETH Nagaraj, a Civil Engineer turned filmmaker who spent a decade as an assistant director, is now making his debut as a feature film director with Hide & Seek. Deriving the title from the popular children's game, the film is billed as a suspense thriller, with Anoop Revanna (Lakshmana, Kabzaa) and Dhanya Ramkumar (Ninna Sanihake) in the lead roles. The makers recently unveiled the trailer at a grand event attended by politicians including Anoop's father, HM Revanna, Ramlalinga Reddy, and Vishwanath, as well as Senior Professor Dr K Ravi, among others, extending their wishes to the team. The makers also made the official announcement that the film will be released across Karnataka on March 15.

Anoop Revanna

Puneeth Nagaraj

In an interview on the sidelines of the trailer launch and release date announcement, Puneeth Nagaraj spoke about the film and described Hide & Seek as a fictional story centered around kidnapping, all unfolding within a week. "The film portrays a world where a gang of kidnappers operates with a mysterious leader amidst them," he explained. "Anoop's character is one of the members of this gang, and the narrative explores the complexities of their organisation and the challenges they face."

Apart from the lead actors, Hide & Seek produced by Vasantrao M Kulakarni features Bal Rajavadi, Suraj of Comedy Khiladigalu fame, Jaggi, Aravind Rao, Krishna Hebbale, and Rajesh Nataranga in pivotal roles. Rijo P John is handling the cinematography, Sandy Adanki (Killing Veerappan) has scored the music for the film, while Madhu Tumbakere serves as the editor.

Auli'i Cravalho to voice Moana in the sequel

CE FEATURES

ACTOR Auli'i Cravalho will lend her voice to the titular character of Moana 2, the sequel to the 2016 animated film. The casting also means that Cravalho will team up again with Dwayne Johnson, who will reprise the demigod Maui in the film.

This is the second biggest announcement related to the film after Disney's CEO Bob Iger revealed that it would release on Nov 27 this year, a day before Thanksgiving.

The director of Moana 2 is Dave Derrick Jr., and the film has Emily Bear and Abigail Barlow as music composers, along with Opetaia Foa'i and Mark Mancina.

It is worth noting that the casting of Cravalho concerns the animated version of the film, not its live-action remake. Last May, Cravalho stated that she wouldn't take part in the live-action film to ensure that the casting correctly represents its story and characters.

'My role in Karataka Damanaka is unlike anything I've done before'

...says Priya Anand, reflecting on her experience working with Yogaraj Bhat and sharing screen space alongside Shivarajkumar. She opines that teaming up with new actors and directors brings a whole new perspective

CE FEATURES

THE last time audiences caught sight of the multilingual actor Priya Anand in Kannada was in James, where she shared the screen with Puneeth Rajkumar. Now, she's gearing up for her next venture in Yogaraj Bhat's Karataka Damanaka. Excitedly, this marks Priya's first collaboration with both the director and Hat-trick hero, Shivarajkumar, alongside Prabhudeva and Nishvika Naidu. Reflecting on this fresh experience, Priya shares, "There's a lot of 'firsts' for me with Karataka Dhamanaka, except for the cinematographer, Santhosh Rai Pathaje, whom I've worked with before. Teaming up with new actors and directors is always interesting. Despite knowing about their work, working with them brings a whole new perspective."

Discussing her initial apprehension working with director Yogaraj Bhat, Priya admits, "When I was approached for Karataka Damanaka, I was nervous to meet him. His film Mungaru Male was a massive hit across India, and I found his persona intimidating. However, I soon discovered that Yogaraj Bhat is one of the most chilled-out directors, with an amazing sense of humor, which helped ease the tension."

Sharing her working experience with Shivarajkumar, Priya recalls, "The warmth of the family makes everyone feel approachable. I had a similar experience with Puneeth Rajkumar (Appu) and got the same vibe from Shivarajkumar. I also had the opportunity to work under a banner like Rockline Productions. Despite missing out on sharing screen space with Prabhudeva, I was impressed by his comic timing and enjoyed watching him perform on the sets. I hope to collaborate with him in the future," she says.

Addressing the competition amidst multiple actors, Priya explains, "Each actor brings their unique skills and presence to the screen. Reacting naturally to such talented co-stars enhances the performance." She praises Nishvika Naidu, expressing, "She became one of my favourites through this film, and I look forward to seeing her in more Kannada and other language films."

Navigating the commercial entertainer space, Priya acknowledges the emphasis on heroes but embraces the challenge. "In Kannada cinema, commercial films come with certain expectations from the audience. Despite that, I'm glad to contribute my best to the film." She adds, "My role in Karataka Damanaka is unlike anything I've done before. Shooting in North Karnataka under the sun was a unique experience that I thoroughly enjoyed. I now wait to catch it on the silver screen on March 8 along with the audience."

Looking ahead, Priya concludes, "Working in Kannada films has always given me countless memories. Post Karataka Damanaka, I look forward to being a part of more films here."
